JAPAN'S EMPEROR ANSWERS SUMMONS

Mutsuhito, After Reign of 44 Years, Gives Up to Death.

GREAT MOURNING IN KINGDOM

Yoshihito Succeeds Fallen Monarch—Unconscious for Many Hours Before the End—Ceremonies at the Palace.

Tokio, July 29.—Mutsuhito, for 44 years Emperor of Japan, died at 12:43 o'clock this morning. Yoshihito, Haru-no-Miya, reigns under the formula provided by the constitution promulgated by Mutsuhito. "The King is dead, long live the King!" Mutsuhito, who was the 121st Emperor of Japan, passed gently away. He had been unconscious for many hours prior to his death, and the Empress, the crown prince and the most prominent officials of the household, and government were at the bedside.

Haruko, now Dowager Empress, yields to Princess Sadako, the young Empress, who is the mother of three sons, of whom the eldest is Hirohito. Haruko has won universal sympathy because of her untiring vigil in the sick room, where she remained continuously for ten days. Even on the last day she pitifully begged the physicians to secure a short respite for the dying Emperor.

Everything known to science was done to prolong the life of the sovereign.

The whole Nation watched pathetically, because the death of the Emperor would establish a new record in the history of Japan, and the people clung almost fiercely to the tradition with which the dying monarch appeared dissolutely linked.

The outcome was inevitable from the first acute developments on July 18th. Death was due to acute nephritis, otherwise known as Bright's disease. This was complicated by diabetes and an intestinal affection. As is usual in such cases the patient on occasion showed marked signs of improvement, followed by a relapse. Since July 26th the condition of the Emperor gradually became worse, with high fever, weak and irregular pulse and shallow respiration.

When the physicians recognized the hopelessness of the case every preparation was made for the end. The Imperial Princess, the ministers and notabilities were summoned to the palace and remained in the outer rooms for 24 hours.

A few of the oldest, who have been closely associated with the Emperor, were permitted to see the Emperor, while the public, contrary to custom, were taken into the confidence of the physicians who issued bulletins hourly, giving details of the progress of the disease. Even the last announcement—that of the death of Emperor—was made within an hour.

At the end upwards of 20,000 subjects silently paid their last homage outside the palace gates. It was a marvelous scene when messengers silently mingled with the crowds and scattered the posted announcements of the Emperor's death. Deep emotion swept the multitude but there was no evidence of excitement. The only sound was a long drawn sigh of sorrow.

Within the palace the death was communicated to the waiting imperial princess and notabilities, whereupon without delay the accession ceremonies were begun at the Imperial sanctuary at 1 o'clock. The shrine was decorated according to the Shinto rites. Prince Iwakura, the chief ritualist, officiated, laying the offering on the sacred altar. He was assisted by a subordinate, who rang a bell while the offerings were being placed. The oath was read in the presence of the ministers, lords, and councillors, and other dignitaries.

Taft Sympathizes.

Washington, July 29.—Upon learning of the death of the Emperor of Japan, President Taft dictated the following statement:

"I am greatly shocked at the death of the Emperor of Japan. It has been my good fortune to have met the Emperor as many as half a dozen times, and to have come into such relations with him as his guest as to feel that there was a personal friendship between us. The Emperor was a remarkable ruler. He brought to actual power through the Shogun rebellion, and his life has measured the wonderful growth and expansion of the Japanese Empire.

"The Emperor was a hard worker and gave great attention to matters of government. His genius for government was shown in his selection of generals, admirals and statesmen who have reflected glory upon the Japanese Nation.

"Rarely in the history of the world has such progress been seen or can be so clearly traced to the ability of certain men who led it and who were the Emperor's selection and enjoyed always his support. His distribution of offices, honors and titles was made after careful comparison of the importance of the services rendered. No one who knows intimately the history of Japan in recent years will deny to Mutsuhito the real leadership of his people."

HEALTH EXPERTS TO COMBAT PLAGUE

Southern Health Congress Organized at New Orleans for Preventive Work.

AN IMPORTANT CONFERENCE

Elaborate and Drastic Plans Are Adopted—Southern and South Atlantic States to Join Federal Government.

New Orleans, July 29.—Elaborate and drastic plans to prevent the introduction into this country of the bubonic plague were decided upon today at a conference of the health authorities of the Federal government and of several Southern States. At the conclusion of the conference the Southern Health Congress was organized, having for its purpose concerted and organized effort against the introduction of the plague through the seaports of the Gulf and South Atlantic States.

It was decided to inaugurate immediately a vigorous campaign for the extermination of rats in all Southern seaports.

A telegram from Surgeon General Blue, of the United States Marine Hospital Service, pledged the support of the Federal government in the work.

Dr. J. H. White, in charge of the United States Marine Hospital Service, at New Orleans, expressed the opinion in addressing the Congress that infected rats could probably be found in every large seaport of the country and that an unrelenting fight for the extermination of the animal should be made. Dr. White made this statement in connection with the discovery of a plague infected rat in New Orleans.

That there was no cause for apprehension in such a discovery was reiterated by him.

The Congress adopted a set of rules of procedure best calculated to give success to the movement. They include:

1. A rat survey limited to water fronts; division of cities into districts with segregation of rats of each area for examination, and ship regulations to prevent transportation of rats.

2. In the event of infection the following measures were recommended:

a. The question of isolation of all coastwise ships upon their arrival at the ports of destination. This provided a spirited discussion. It was finally decided to leave the matter in abeyance.

3. Officers selected by the Congress are: Dr. Oscar Dowling, of Louisiana, president; Dr. E. H. Capps, of Gulfport, Miss., secretary and treasurer.

Among the vice presidents are Dr. C. A. Hohn, Alabama; Dr. W. F. V. Frunier, Georgia; Dr. J. Y. Porter, Florida; Dr. J. H. White, of the public health and marine service; Vice presidents for South Carolina, North Carolina and Virginia will be selected later.

Mobile was chosen as the next place of meeting, but the date was not fixed.

ANOTHER STRANGE KILLING

Prominent Man of Montgomery, Ala., Arrested on Charge.

Montgomery, Ala., July 29.—I. E. Boyette, manager of the Montgomery cooperage company, and prominently connected, was arrested here today, charged with the murder of P. J. Westhofen, also of the Cooperage Company. Westhofen died at a local infirmary of lockjaw two weeks ago. Isaac White, negro chauffeur of the Boyettes, told the sheriff today that Mrs. Boyette started on an afternoon drive two weeks ago. Westhofen was taken in the car. White says that eight miles from the city Westhofen ordered the car stopped and went a hundred yards in the woods. Immediately a shot rang out. At Mrs. Boyette's command White investigated. He found Westhofen shot in the arm with a revolver at his feet. Westhofen declined to get back in the car and told the negro he shot himself. Westhofen, at the infirmary repeated his statement that he shot himself but Monday Sheriff Hood was told to come to the infirmary to obtain an ante-mortem statement. Before the sheriff's arrival Westhofen died. Dr. Anderson told the sheriff that Westhofen in his delirium said Boyette did the shooting. At lunch intervals Westhofen told the hospital attendants he shot himself. Dr. Anderson is of the opinion that Westhofen could not have shot himself on account of the location of the wound. Boyette denied the charge and refused to make a statement.

Minneapolis, Minn., July 29.—Former United States Senator William D. Washburn, for many years prominent in the political life of the Nation and one of the leaders in the upbuilding of the Northwest, died here shortly after 10 o'clock tonight. He was 83 years of age.

The Emperor of Japan came to the State Department in a cablegram from American Ambassador Bryan, at Tokio, dated July 30th, 2 A. M., reporting the death of the Emperor at 12:43 A. M. The news was immediately communicated to the White House and President Taft called directly his regrets to the new Emperor and to the Empress Dowager.

THE SUGAR TRUST DISORGANIZES GRACE TROUBLES IN COURT A RECORD BALLOON FLIGHT

Gives Up Quarter Million Dollars Growing Out of Philadelphia Investigation—Refiners' Employees Too Sharp

Washington, July 29.—Alleged sugar frauds at Philadelphia, under investigation by Secretary of the Treasury MacVeagh and Attorney General Wickersham for the last year, have been settled by the payment of nearly a quarter of a million dollars to the United States government by the sugar refining companies, involved.

This announcement was made by the Treasury Department today. The announcement included a statement that an exhaustive examination by the government and two grand juries failed to show evidence to justify the belief that officers or directors of the sugar companies or higher officials of the customs service participated in the alleged frauds or that government weighers had been bribed.

"The frauds," the Treasury Department's statement declared, "are to be accounted for largely because discipline was lax, making it possible for refinery employees to get the better of the government agents."

The losses to the government, according to the statement, were caused for the most part by the short-weighting of imported raw sugar by an illegal collection of drawbacks upon exportation of sirups.

The statement summarizes the settlements as follows:

"The W. J. McCahan Sugar Refining Company has paid the sum of $100,000. The Franklin Sugar Refining Company, in settlement of the claims both against itself and against the Sprinkles Sugar Refining Company—both companies having been operated virtually as one under the control of the so-called 'trust'—has paid the sum of $124,386.29. In addition, has caused the government to be released from liabilities arising from excess collections of countervailing duties on sugar imported at Philadelphia and New York amounting to about $22,000."

The investigation covered a period of 17 years, going back to the reimposition of duty on raw sugar by the Wilson Act in 1894, and resulted in the institution of many customs reforms.

Investigation of alleged sugar frauds at New York and New Orleans are now proceeding. These constitute the final act of the nationwide inquiry that resulted in the revelation of abuses of sugar importations at New York several years ago.

Atlanta, Ga., July 29.—Mrs. Daisy Opie Grace's trial on the charge of shooting her handsome young husband, moved forward swiftly today. Within two hours after the former Philadelphia woman had entered her plea of "not guilty," a jury had been secured and the prosecution had begun the introduction of witnesses.

When court adjourned late in the day, the sixth witness was undergoing direct examination. More than twenty others have been summoned but it is doubtful if the prosecution will call them all.

It was a day devoid of sensational developments. The policemen who found Grace bleeding in his bed on (Continued on Page Eight.)

Manassas, Va., July 29.—"Uncle Sam" proved a winner again today when the balloon of that name, piloted by Capt. H. E. Honeywell, of St. Louis, landed here in the early dawn near the historic Bull Run battlefield, having defeated all other entries in the elimination race from Kansas City to decide which three Americans should take part in the International balloon contest to start from Stuttgart, Germany, October 26th next, for the James Gordon Bennett trophy.

Capt. Honeywell and his aide, Roy F. Donaldson, spent 35 hours in the air and, as the crowd flies, covered a distance of 925 miles from the time they left Kansas City Saturday afternoon until they alighted on the farm of John Lewis at 5 o'clock this morning.

A storm which overtook us in our eastward face and the fact that we were approaching the Atlantic ocean drove us to the earth," said Capt. Honeywell. "We could have remained in the air all day, and if conditions had been favorable, would, I believe, established an American record. But when it began to rain and with a storm surrounding us we were afraid we might be blown out over the ocean. We did not know exactly where we were when we started to descend. But we knew that as we had left the Alleghenies and Blue Ridge mountains some distance in our rear we must be getting close to the sea."

Captain Honeywell said he had hoped after crossing the Alleghenies in Pennsylvania, that favorable winds would blow them towards New England, in which event they would have covered considerably more ground. As it was, allowing for the fact that their course from Kansas City to Manassas, was roughly in the shape of a crescent the airman estimated that they sailed more than 1,200 miles.

"For good luck, we patted a hunched-back newsboy before we left Kansas City," said the captain. ".... Is why we won," he added laughingly.

It was the captain's 17th trip in a balloon, his first venture into cloud-land having been made twelve years ago. His longest previous journey was 870 miles.

"Despite the fact that I have made many balloon trips," he said, "this was in some respects the most interesting ever made. We had no untoward incidents, although we were close to storms both Saturday and Sunday night with lightning playing around us and thunder sounding like a dozen barrels rolled into one."

Neither Captain Honeywell nor his aide had a wink of sleep during the 35 hours they were in the balloon. They had provisions to last many days and they left with the farmer who was first to greet them on their descent what remained of their provisions.

"Did you ever hear of using ice cream for ballast?" asked the captain. "Well, that is what we used, for we had several gallons when we left Kansas City and what was left next morning we threw overboard."

"We had plenty of good things to eat en route. As a stove to heat us up, we put a little lime between two buckets and then sliced the lime. While passing over Chicago at high noon Sunday we had our midday meal, cantaloupes, soup, boiled eggs," (Continued on Page Eight.)

OUTLINES

The balloon "Uncle Sam," piloted by Capt. H. E. Honeywell, landed early yesterday morning near Manassas, Va., winning the race from Kansas City, to decide which of the three Americans should contest at Stuttgart, Germany, in October, for the Bennett cup; the winner was in the air 53 hours and covered over 1,000 miles.

Police Lieutenant Chas. Becker was arrested last night in connection with the Rosenthal murder case in New York; the charge is conspiracy.

The trial of Mrs. Daisy Opie Grace, charged with shooting her husband, began in Atlanta yesterday, a jury having been secured and six of 20-odd witnesses testified; the day was devoid of any sensations.

Mutsuhito, 44 years emperor of Japan, passed away yesterday morning, after many hours of unconsciousness. He is succeeded by Yoshihito, under the formula provided by the constitution promulgated by the deceased monarch.

There were two more shootings on the New York Eastside in broad daylight yesterday, one of the victims after recognizing his assailant, having died.

Alleged sugar frauds, found to be largely to the laxity of officials at Philadelphia, were settled yesterday by the payment to the government of nearly a quarter of a million dollars.

Judge Archbald yesterday answered the House charges of corruption in office; the trial will likely not take place until Fall.

The Southern Health Congress was organized at New Orleans yesterday by Federal government and State representatives, its primary object being to prevent the introduction of the bubonic plague into this country.

SOLDIERS ARE "HICKING"

Principal Exercise for State Troops At Annapolis, Md.

Annapolis, Md., July 29.—"Hicking" is the principal exercise being indulged in by the State troops now located at Camp Petrus for the Summer maneuvers. All the soldiers were sent out this morning on practice marches returning to camp about noon. In the afternoon schools of instruction were held for officers, the regular army of officers here acting as instructors. Great interest is being shown in the sham battle to be fought next Friday or Saturday. The opinion is expressed by some of the regular army officers that the present assignment of troops, consisting of the Kentucky, South Carolina and Alabama regiments, have taken hold of the maneuver work with more aptitude than some of their predecessors.

BECKER ARRESTED IN N. Y. MURDER

Police Lieutenant Charged With Being Implicated in Rosenthal Case.

SENSATIONAL DEVELOPMENTS

Night Session of Grand Jury Heard Important Testimony—Rose, Webber and Vallon Told Their Stories—Arrest.

New York, July 29.—After a late night session of the grand jury in which "Bald Jack" Rose and "Bridge" Webber and Harry Vallon are alleged to have made confessions, directly implicating Police Lieut. Charles Becker, in the murder of Herman Rosenthal, a front of the Hotel Metropole two weeks ago, Becker was indicted for murder in the first degree, placed under arrest and hurried before a mid-night session of the Court of General sessions.

After entering a plea of not guilty, the police official was remanded without bail and taken to the Tombs. The gamblers whose statements are said to have caused the indictment of Becker, pleaded with the officials not to be taken back to the Tombs, declaring they would be killed if returned to their cells.

"Agents of the police department," they asserted, would make way with them in retaliation for their testimony if they were returned to the prison. So real was their fear that they were allowed to sleep in the criminal courts building under the guard of eight detectives.

The greatest secrecy was maintained as to the admissions made before the grand jury by the three men, who have been held prisoners for some time in connection with Rosenthal's murder. It is asserted, however, that Rose told of practically being forced to arrange the killing of Rosenthal under threats of being "jobbed" by the police and sent to prison on manufactured evidence. Lieut. Becker was in communication with the actual murderers after the killing also was asserted to have been part of Rose's confession. Another statement attributed to "Bald Jack" was that for several months he had acted as collector of certain "house" officials of toll from gambling houses.

The confessions of the gamblers were made tonight after Max D. Steiner and James Sullivan, counsel for the men, had pleaded all afternoon with them to tell what they knew of the murder. Once their consent was given, District Attorney Whiney lost not a moment in rushing them before the grand jury.

In order to avoid a change of heart on the part of these witnesses the grand jury was assembled for the first night session held by that body in 18 years. With this testimony as a basis, the grand jury acted just as quickly and an indictment was voted before the sitting closed.

Becker, who had been arrested on a charge of extortion at his station house in the Bronx, was at once hurried before Judge McQueen to plead.

It was not until the accused lieutenant faced the court that the full gravity of the charge against him was made known. He had supposed until that time that the accusation of extortion alone faced him.

Indications about the criminal court building after Becker had been returned to the Tombs were that with the confession of the gamblers, fresh impetus had been given to the investigation of Rosenthal's slaying. Late tonight several subpoena servers were sent out from the criminal court building and it is reported that they were seeking new witnesses in the neighborhood of the Hotel Metropole. Among the rumors circulated tonight was that the names of the actual slayers were now definitely known to District Attorney Whitman and that even their present hiding places had been revealed. No one would indicate, however, that the arrests of the much wanted men were in immediate prospect.

James M. Sullivan, counsel for Jack Rose, made a statement tonight in which he said:

"I took up the matter of a confession by Rose with Mr. Whitman early last week, and Friday afternoon came practically to an understanding with Mr. Whitman that my client would tell all he knew, if promised immunity. I feel that a great step has been taken in the furtherance of justice, and want to say that Rose was not a 'squealer' in the ordinary sense of the term. He held out and refused to enter (Continued on Page Eight.)

ARCHBOLD REPLY MADE TO SENATE

Never Used Office or Influence as a Judge for Profit.

THE HOUSE INDICTMENT

None of Charges, If True, Constitute An Impeachable Offense, Declares the Jurist—Trial Will Likely Be in Fall

Washington, July 29.—Judge Robert W. Archbald, of the Commerce Court, in answer to the impeachment articles brought against him by the House of Representatives, today formally denied to the Senate sitting as a Court of Impeachment that he ever had used his office or his influence as a judge for profit, that he ever undertook for a consideration to compromise litigation before the Interstate Commerce Commission, that he ever wrongfully used his position to obtain credit from litigants before him, or that he had undertaken to carry on a general business for profit or speculation in coal properties, as charged in the House indictment.

To each of the 13 articles of impeachment Judge Archbald replied that none, even if true, constituted an impeachable offense, a high crime or a misdemeanor as defined by the Constitution. Many statements contained in the allegations were totally denied, while others were totally denied and annulment of others was asked on the ground that they were too vague to admit of proper defense.

Judge Archbald admitted his participation in the now-noted "Katydid" coal bank deal with Edward J. Williams, of Scranton, and the Hillside Coal & Iron Company, a subsidiary of the Erie Railroad, which then had cases pending in his court, but he denied that he willfully or knowingly corruptly took any advantage of his position to induce the railroad officials to deal with him and his partner.

The accused jurist denied that he at any time for a consideration agreed to assist George M. Watson, a Scranton lawyer, to settle a case in which the Marican Coal Company was complainant against the Lackawanna Railroad before the Interstate Commerce Commission. William P. Boland and his brothers, Christopher and James, are principal stockholders in the coal company and William P. Boland was the actual trustee for the charges on which the House Judiciary Committee reported articles of impeachment. The Judge's answer today set out that his participation in the negotiations with officials of the Lackawanna Railroad for settlement of the case was purely out of friendship for Watson and Christopher G. Boland and that all his acts were without promise or expectation of compensation of any kind.

In reply to the charge that he and his associates secured from the Lehigh Valley Railroad a lease on Coal Lump No. 3, owned by the city of Philadelphia, and that the heirs of the late Stephen Girard, reply was made that the transaction did not involve unlawful or corrupt use of his office. Some details of this article were disputed.

To the charge that Judge Archbald permitted Helm Bruce, attorney for the Louisville & Nashville Railroad, to make a reply after a case had been closed in court, the judge averred that permission for such a supplementary reply was not, so far as he knew, given in secret from the Interstate Commerce Commission. Judge Archbald denied that permission for the supplementary answer was given wrongfully or unlawfully, but declared it had been done in fairness and in the interests of justice.

The Judge denied that he used his office wrongfully to aid Frederick Warnke in securing from the Philadelphia & Reading Railroad a lease of the Lincoln culm dump or that he accepted a bribe from Christopher G. Boland to do so. Judge Archbald does say, however, that he and John Henry Jones received from the Premier Coal Company a note for $510 endorsed by Warnke. This the judge avers was for services he and Jones had performed by bringing about the sale of the Old Gravity culm bank by the Locomotive & Shifter Coal Company to the Premier Coal Company in which Warnke has an interest.

The charge that the judge used his office corruptly or improperly to bring about the sale of the Everhardt coal lands to the Lehigh Valley Railroad or the Lehigh Valley Coal Company, was claimed to be a vague, and its annulment was asked.

Judge Archbald denied that any time he had entered a scheme to buy stocks of a gold mining scheme in Honduras with W. W. Rissinger by endorsing a note for $25,000. Rissinger is part owner of the stock of the Old Plymouth Coal Company. He admitted having endorsed a note for Rissinger, but avers it was for no sole accommodation and benefit of Rissinger and Rissinger later sent him certificates of stock in a gold mining enterprise as collateral security for his endorsement. It was admitted that the Old Plymouth Coal Company was a litigant in the Judge's court, but (Continued on Page Eight.)

STRICKEN IN COURT.

Tampa, Fla., Justice Dies After an Exciting Trial.

Tampa, Fla., July 29.—After tempestuous sessions in his court room during the hearing of an election fraud case brought by Socialists, Judge Thomas James collapsed today and died a few minutes later from apoplexy. Judge James collapsed immediately after a personal encounter between Dan Robinson, defeated Socialist candidate for mayor, and Mitchell McKay, a brother of Mayor D. E. McKay, successful opponent of Robinson.

The fight between Robinson and McKay occurred when a recess was taken by the court immediately after J. W. Stafford, one of the accused election inspectors, attempted to assault J. W. Stafford, a witness for the prosecution, while Campbell was testifying. Immediately on reconvening, counsel for the defense commenced arguing a motion to dismiss the defendants, when Judge James was stricken. He was hurried to his home nearby, where he died a few minutes later.

ROSE HILL DEFEATS WALLACE.

Six to Four in Interesting Game Yesterday Afternoon.—Batteries (Special Star Telegram).
Rose Hill, N. C., July 29.—Rose Hill defeated Wallace at Wallace this evening. The game was very exciting. The interesting features were the pitching of Hatcher for Rose Hill and the home runs by Hussay and Williams. The battery for Wallace was Whitfield and Barton. Rose Hill, Hatcher and Hatcher.

FIREWORKS AT LUMINA

Second Exhibition of Season to Be Announced Next Monday Night.
Announcement is made of another fireworks display to be given at Wrightsville Beach in front of Lumina next Monday night, August 5th. The exhibition to be given on that date, it is said, will be even larger and better than the last exhibition which took place several days ago. Besides, if the weather is favorable, the conditions on that date will be much better for displaying fireworks, as there will be no moon. It was moonlight during the last exhibition, which prevented the most perfect results being attained.

It has been decided to confine this new exhibition entirely to aerial fireworks and omit the set pieces. By using aerial fireworks only, that is, fireworks displayed high in the air, an exhibition will be given that can easily be seen by everybody. Many are unable to see the set pieces because set pieces are displayed on or near the ground. The display that is to be given next Monday night will consist of rockets, bombs, parachutes of every description. There will also be a few water fireworks, especially designed for use in the surf. These will be exhibited far enough out in the ocean to be seen by everybody. The display, it is said, will consist of 150 different fireworks.

The Tidewater Power Company promises plenty of cars to handle the crowds, which will no doubt be very large if the weather is favorable.
Secretary J. B. Huntington, of the Y. M. C. A., has received a letter from the architectural firm of Shattuck & Hussey, of Chicago, to the effect that the revised plans for the New Y. M. C. A., building for Wilmington will reach this city some time this week and that a representative of the firm will also arrive to confer with the directors and trustees to explain the plans in detail. The plans have been changed in accordance with the suggestions made by the directors and trustees some time ago, and it is expected that they will meet with the fullest approval of the boards this time. In this event, proposals will be advertised for and the contract let as soon as possible. The building is to be located on the north side of Market street, just east of the Colonial Inn.

DR. NORMENT IN EXTREMIS

Venerable Lumberton Physician Is Thought to Be Near End.
Lumberton, N. C., July 29.—The Robesonian in its issue this afternoon, says: "The condition of Dr. R. M. Norment, who has been very ill for some days, is extremely critical and his death is expected at almost any moment."

Later—Dr. Norment died at 2 o'clock this (Tuesday) morning. He was 83 years old last February; a veteran of the Civil War and the Mexican war.

NO FURTHER CONTRACTS.

Street Improvements About Complete.—Conference Yesterday

Members of the City Council met in the Mayor's office yesterday morning at 10 o'clock for a conference with regard to the street improvement work. The idea was to "take stock," so to speak, and ascertain the amount of money yet available for street improvements so it could be determined whether or not any further contracts could be given out.

Owing to the fact that advances have been made to the Tidewater Power Company, which pays a certain portion of the cost of improving the streets on which it has tracks, and to individuals for sidewalks, it became necessary for Council to make arrangements to borrow about $40,000 for 30 days to meet payments for street work now being done. It is stated that this is practically the amount due by the Tidewater Power Co., and individuals, but it will be several weeks yet before all of it can be collected. Council having agreed to certain terms. So at the conference yesterday morning authority was given the proper official to secure a loan of this amount.

As a result of the "stock taking" it was ascertained that it will take all of the balance of the street improvement fund to pay for the work already contracted for, so no new contracts will be awarded. Certainly not for the present, anyway. Councilman P. Q. Moore, in charge of the Department of Streets and Wharves, stated at the meeting that there would be only $5,000 or $10,000 left at the most. All of the street work will be completed in a few days now, it is expected.

At the regular meeting last Wednesday, Mr. R. A. Parsley asked for a statement showing the amount expended and the amount unexpended of the street improvement fund. Councilman P. Q. Moore will probably give this information at the meeting tomorrow.

MR. EDWARD SESSOMS DEAD

Further Particulars of Death of Useful Citizen of Stedman.
Stedman, N. C., July 27.—The death of Mr. Edward Sessoms occurred this morning at 9 o'clock, after an illness of little over two weeks. The deceased was in his 55th year, and leaves a widow, who was before marriage, Miss Julia R. Bullard, and six children, who were all present when the end came, as were some of the other relatives from a distance. The interment will be at the cemetery one mile from Stedman tomorrow (Sunday) at ten o'clock.

Miss Bettie Fairweather, from Wilmington is spending a month in Stedman for rest and in the interest of her health.

—The Audubon Nurseries, Mr. C. W. N. Hess, manager, has employed an expert to take care of yards. The Audubon Nurseries are also in charge of the work of beautifying Edgewood, the new suburb near Winter Park. Trees have already been planted along Sixth street in the suburb and in a short time others will be set out along the public road.

The Canadian government proposes to restrict the working hours of the street railway men to six days of ten hours each day.

POLICE CONTINUE RAIDING

Number of Places Searched Yesterday Afternoon and Last Evening—Arrests Made at Princess Cafe Sunday.

Acting under orders from Mayor J. D. Smith, the police yesterday afternoon and last evening made a number of raids on places under suspicion as "blind tigers," meeting with very little success, however. The officers declare that the proprietors have become wary on account of the developments in Superior Court last week and have disposed of their stocks of intoxicants, or have hidden them. At several of the places the men in charge locked the doors and refused to let the officers make any search.

At place at Sixth and Harnett streets, said to be operated by J. C. Vereen, who has been indicted by the present grand jury on a charge of violating the prohibition law, was searched by Plainclothesmen Coleman, Jacobs and Frank George and Detective E. C. Warren. Nothing was found. The rear part of the store was locked and the officers were not allowed to enter it.

Officers Coleman and Jacobs searched the place of Schutte Bros., corner Ninth and Bladen streets, but found nothing. They also raided the place at the northeast corner of Front and Dock streets, proprietor unknown, but found nothing.

Henry T. Duls' place, at Eighth and Chesnut streets, was searched by Officers Coleman and Jacobs. They reported that they found 15 bottles of Budweiser beer in the ice box.

At Seventh and Chesnut streets Officers F. George, L. George and Detective Warren searched a place said to belong to W. D. Duncan. The proprietor fled when the officers came up and they made the search at their leisure. They reported, two barrels of bottled beer, 25 bottles of beer on ice and between 250 and 300 half pint bottles of G. P. R. whiskey.

At the store at 115 South Front street, proprietor unknown, five barrels of empty whiskey bottles were found. The rear was locked.

The National Grocery Company, 119 South Front street, was raided by Officers L. George, F. George, J. O. Butler and Detective Warren. The rear rooms were securely locked and the man in charge refused to open them. The officers reported that they saw a number of barrels, but were unable to examine them.

Officers Leon George and J. R. Minshie searched the place of T. F. McAllister, 515 McKee street, finding one bottle of beer on ice. Last night Chief Fowler, Officers L. George, Frank George, B. W. Jacobs and Detective Warren went back to McAllister's place. They searched the yard and stable, finding nothing, and then crawled under the house, where quite a quantity of old barrels, lumber, etc., were stored. In the center of this they found one barrel of Hofbrau beer, from which only a few bottles had been taken. Chief Fowler stated that McAllister told them "he" was making "the search" that the only intoxicants he had was a half pint of whiskey for his own use, but when they found the beer he declared that was also for his own use.

At Fourth and Church streets, a place said to belong to a man named Padrick, the officers failed of admittance, the building being locked. The place of J. S. Westbrook & Co., 813 North Fourth street, was searched by Officers L. George, Coleman and Jacobs, who reported that they found 24 bottles of "No Tax." They said they also saw a number of barrels in the rear, to which they were denied access.

Sunday morning the officers made a raid on the Princess Cafe, J. R. Kennedy, proprietor, finding a number of bottles of beer on ice and a large quantity in barrels. The officers went back about an hour later and arrested three clerks, A. Dick Lassiter, Cus. Kondiles, and S. G. Balsom. Later in the afternoon J. R. Kennedy, the proprietor, was arrested. The three clerks went to jail, but Lassiter later was able to give bond. The others are still in jail. Kennedy later entered a plea of guilty in Superior Court and was released under $500 bond for his appearance.

DR. HOLMES TO SPEAK

Former State Geologist to Talk at Charlotte Convention

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Charlotte, N. C., July 29.—Among the notable speakers who are expected to be present at the annual convention of the North Carolina Good Roads Convention is Dr. J. A. Holmes, director of the U. S. Bureau of Mines at Washington. Dr. Holmes was at one time State Geologist of North Carolina, and the inaugural address at the Good Roads Convention in this State. It is very fitting that he should come back to North Carolina in interest of good roads; in view of the long years of service he rendered the State in behalf of this cause. Dr. Holmes is now a figure of national and international importance and is rendering a splendid service to his country. Aside from the pleasure which our North Carolina people will feel in welcoming him back to his former home and field of service, will be the great pleasure and benefit of hearing the message he will bring to us out of his broad experience.

Other speakers who will be welcomed by the delegates of the convention and listened to with pleasure and profit are the Honorable E. J. Justice, former speaker of the House of Representatives, and Dr. Francis P. Venable, president of the State University.

It is expected that this Good Roads Convention will be a banner occasion in North Carolina, and every citizen interested in the advancement of his State is most cordially invited to attend.

DELIGHTS OF GREEN PARK.

"Hurrygraphs" About Pleasant Mountain Rertast in Carolina.

Green Park Hotel, Green Park, N. C., July 28.—Great activity and pleasing interest is now manifested around Green Park Hotel. Troop A, North Carolina National Guard, cavalry, 65 men strong, with four escort wagons, and 73 head of horses, arrived here yesterday and pitched their tents on one of the most beautiful spots in this beautiful mountainous Blowing Rock country—a lovely sloping green lawn adjoining the park of the Green Park Hotel, where the breezes sweep up the valley in a continuous frolic, at a temperature of from 58 to 65 degrees, and bathe the "boys" in refreshing coolness. The company is in command of Capt. W. A. Fair, and is from Lincoln, N. C. It is a fine body of sturdy young men; men who work and accomplish something, and are making a reputation as good soldiers on these annual marches. They will be here four days.

A large number of the guests of Green Park Hotel, and the other hotels in the Blowing Rock section, visited the location yesterday and watched the pitching of the tents, and the modes of soldiers going into camp. The boys were cordially welcomed by the ladies and mountain visitors. Capt. Fair was gracious in hearty greetings to the visitors. He announced that the camp had not been named and he would leave it to the ladies to name. They did. They unanimously gave it the name of "Camp Green Park."

Lieut. I. L. Hunsucker, of the United States National Guard, stationed at Delaham, Ga., is with the company instructing the men in the tactics. Uncle Sam would have them practice. They are now busy doing patrol and scout duty. All of the men are well and hearty and are enjoying this cool and delightful Blowing Rock country to the fullest extent.

Manager Richard H. Harper, of the Green Park Hotel, tonight tendered Capt. Fair and Lieut. Hunsucker, and the company a complimentary dance in the beautiful ball room of the hotel. The ladies, both homefolks and the visitors in the mountains at the other hotels, were invited. It was a brilliant assemblage of lovely women and gallant men, both civilians and soldiers, and resulted in one of the most pleasing events of the season at this popular resort.

House party dinners are now the order at the Green Park Hotel. A most delightful one today was participated in by Miss Willie Erninger, of Marion, Ga.; Misses Mary Brockenbrough, Sarah Brockenbrough, Helen Brem, Mildred Patterson and Messrs. J. H. Little and J. P. Matheson, all of the latter from Charlotte.

The latest arrivals at the Green Park Hotel are Mr. E. L. Gaither and two daughters, Misses Sarah Hall and Dorothy, from Mocksville, N. C.; Mr. R. G. Jones and wife, Durham; Mrs. O. C. Townsend, New York; Mrs. C. Triplett and little daughter, Elizabeth, Pine Bluff, Ark.; Miss Lottie Hearne, Albemarle, N. C.; Mr. J. F. Willy, wife and two children, Durham; Squire R. C. Cox, Miss Katie Cox and Miss Susie Cox, Durham, are the guests of the Watauga Inn.

MR. C. M. MIDDLETON DEAD.

Splendid Citizen of Duplin County Passes Away—Funeral.

(East Carolina News.)

The finger of God touched the brow of C. M. Middleton and led him to the Heavenly mansion. Thursday night, July 18, 1912, at 9 o'clock, typhoid fever held him a victim 21 days, and pneumonia was developed a few days prior to his death. He was a son of Mr. D. J. and Lucy Middleton, born November 11, 1869, age 51 years, eight months and seven days. December 13, 1883, he was married to Miss Studie Moore, who, with seven daughter, survive him. He also leaves five brothers, Messrs. William, Leonidas and Herbert Middleton, near Warsaw; Theo. Middleton, of Magnolia, and Prof. E. L. Middleton, of Raleigh; and three half brothers, Messrs. O. P. Middleton, of Warsaw; Dave Middleton, of Goldsboro, and Dr. Jim Nicholson, of Richmond.

Not only do those of his immediate family suffer great loss, but his many relatives and friends, the town of Magnolia and his church.

When about 17 years of age he joined Old Johnson's Baptist church near Warsaw. Having made his home in Magnolia about eight years ago, he united with the Baptist church here, where his life, his influence, his talents, and possessions have been a great blessing.

In his home, his determination seemed to be, "As for me and my house we will serve the Lord," and he lived his life all children gave their hearts to their Maker, and are active members of the Baptist church.

In his church life, he "took time to be holy, spoke oft with his Lord." No business or home cares ever caused him to neglect his Christian duties. As deacon, church clerk, teacher in the Sunday School, and ever ready to supply other needs, his place will be hard to fill. To the sick, the aged, the poor, the sorrowing, he was the ever-ready friend, cheering them with his presence and aid.

The greatest burden of his heart seemed to be the lost souls, and wailing Christians, especially for the young people of his community who are out of Christ. He has left many aching hearts. May his influence live forever, and may the Holy Comforter dwell in the hearts and homes of all the bereaved.

Funeral services in the Baptist church by his pastor, Rev. J. H. Booth, and laid to rest in the family cemetery at the home of Mr. H. D. Middleton, he awaits the resurrection morning to join all who die in the Lord.

Mr. Middleton was the father of Mrs. Harry Saward and an uncle of Mr. Leon Middleton, of Wilmington.

ECZEMA ALL OVER BODY.

Extract from letter of a prominent citizen in Maine who suffered torment with eczema all over his body: "I tried every thing, consulted physicians, specialists, and was about discouraged until I began using HOKARA. My doctor said it would be phenomenal if HOKARA cured me. A few applications quickly relieved, and in a short time HOKARA worked a wonderful cure of my trouble." (Name on request).

..Theatrical..

The two great films at the Grand Theatre yesterday afternoon and last night attracted great crowds to the popular playhouse; in fact, so much so, that the management has decided on still another great bill in the movies for today and an extraordinary offering on Wednesday.

The latter big feature will be a Selig masterpiece, in three reels, "The Coming of Columbus." This is a graphically interesting historical picture and one that cost $50,000 to make and which was three years in the making. There are 350 people in the cast and the Grand will offer this great production at no extra cost whatever. People have come to expect something "just a little better" at The Grand and that's exactly the standard which the management hopes to maintain. The reduction of the price of admission has in no wise curtailed the offerings at this playhouse and this fact is being appreciated by the public.

For today there will be a wonderful Pathe, "The Unwilling Bride." When the daughter of an Indian chief is given in marriage to the chief of an adjoining tribe, he sends a messenger to bring her. The Indian Princess and the messenger fall in love and get married in both becoming fugitives from their native tribe. How they finally escape makes a series of intensely interesting pictures.

"His Masterpiece" is a second great film of the Selig make. It is a tragedy of old age and tells pretty story of John Schmidt, first violinist in the orchestra at the International Opera House. The old musician finally triumphs in the production of his masterpiece in the very theatre from which he was pushed aside by younger blood.

In addition to these two there is still a third film which, with the natural attractiveness of the house, will "pack 'em in" again today and tonight.

At the Bijou.

With two of the highest salaried and best known moving picture artists, dainty Florence E. Turner and handsome, dashing, Maurice Costello, in the stellar roles the New Bijou, the home of joy and solid comfort, will today offer as its topliner the costly and up-to-the-second film, "Auntie's Romance," which is proclaimed the very best of the Vitaphone folks have ever manufactured. It tells a beautiful story, vividly exemplifying that it is better to be rich in love than in money.

MISS FLORENCE TURNER.
Noted Actress in "Auntie's Romance," Vitaphone Film, Bijou Today.

poverty-stricken heart in the midst of riches, and the tale, told in heart-gripping way, will convince one that love is more to be desired than riches. Mr. Costello has a strikingly fine part, which gives him ample opportunity to display his great ability, while Miss Turner's role is one of prettiness, that will charm all Bijou-goers.

Among the other notable successes that the Bijou will present today will be the latest Biograph, "Heaven Awaits." It is a story out of the ordinary and is intensely dramatic, showing the unerring justice of Providence. The story is one of much tenderness and takes place down among the orange groves, where nature appears sweetest. It is one of the best things the Biograph company has ever turned out.

The Bijou will, of course, offer the usual big inducements in the way of cool breezes and perfect healthful ventilation, which has made the amusement palace noted and which attracts folks by the hundred daily. It should be remembered, too, that the Bijou's price of admission is now and always has been 5 cents—afternoon and night.

Special Tonight at Lumina.

DON'T NEGLECT CATARRH

Even in its early stages Catarrh is a most distressing complaint, known by its symptoms of stuffy feeling in the head and nose, roaring in the ears, mucus in the throat, difficult breathing, etc. When the blood becomes thoroughly polluted with catarrhal matter the inflammation extends to the bronchial tubes, causing hoarseness and often an aggravating cough, the stomach is affected, resulting in dyspepsia, loss of appetite, and gradually all the mucous membranes of the body become diseased. Catarrh is a deep-seated blood disease and must be treated constitutionally; it is beyond the reach of local treatment. Only temporary relief can ever be had from the use of sprays, washes, etc. S. S. S. cures Catarrh by cleansing the blood of all impure catarrhal matter and at the same time building up the entire system. It goes down into the circulation and removes all impurities. Then a pure, nourishing blood circulates through the body, the inflamed membranes heal, all discharges cease and every symptom of Catarrh passes away. Don't neglect Catarrh; cure it with S. S. S. as thousands have done. Book on Catarrh and any medical advice free.

THE MORNING STAR

Published by the WILMINGTON STAR COMPANY, INC.,
Wilmington, N. C.

Entered as second-class matter at the postoffice at Wilmington, N. C., under Act of Congress, March 2nd, 1879.

FULL ASSOCIATED PRESS REPORT.

PUBLISHERS' ANNOUNCEMENT.

THE MORNING STAR, the oldest daily newspaper in North Carolina, is published daily except Monday, at 30 cents per year, $3 for six months, $1.50 for three months, 50 cents for one month, served by carriers in the city, or by mail.

THE SUNDAY STAR, by mail, one year,
$1; six months, 50 cents; three months, 25 cents.

ADVERTISING RATES may be had on application, and advertisers may feel assured that through the columns of this paper they may reach all Wilmington, Eastern Carolina and contiguous territory in South Carolina.

Obituary sketches, cards of thanks, communications espousing the cause of a private enterprise or a political candidate, and like matter, will be charged at the rate of 30 cents per line, or if paid cash in advance, a half rate will be allowed. Announcements of fairs, festivals, balls, hop-picks, society meetings, political meetings, etc., will be charged under same conditions, except so much thereof as may be of news value to readers of the paper.

Advertisements discontinued before expiration of contract are charged transient rates for time actually published. Payment for transient advertisements must be made in advance. Contract advertisers will not be allowed to exceed their space at same rates, or advertise anything foreign to their regular business without extra charge. Advertisements to occupy special place will be charged for according to position desired.

TELEPHONE: Business Office, No. 57; Editorial and Local Rooms, No. 61. Call either, if the other doesn't answer.

COMMUNICATIONS, unless they contain important news, or discuss briefly and properly subjects of real interest, are not wanted; and if acceptable in every other way, they will invariably be rejected unless the real name of the author accompanies the same, not necessarily for publication, but as a guarantee of good faith.

Tuesday, July 30, 1912.

Don't leave a trail that will look good to a William J. Burns.

Gangmen seem to be making an effort to kidnap the Third Party.

Hilles is getting to be Taft's court jester. He is inviting approval of Taft's administration, after all that has happened.

The Bull Moose party is going it strong on woman suffrage. They ought to keep their skirts clean by sidestepping the Bull Moose.

"Let your conversation be yea, yea, and nay, nay." They must have had the dictagraph or some effective manner of eavesdropping away back yonder.

New York Republicans are wearing
"No Third Term" buttons. The Third Party will be queered by the third term. The new party ought to be called the two-thirds party.

It is estimated that the contests filed by Roosevelt at the Republican National convention cost him $20,000. He was flummoxed, for he found out that they were not worth a cent.

Some politicians count on getting up in the world by sitting down on the point of view of the other fellow.
Sometimes it is the same as sitting down on a tack.

Detectives claim that a man's finger prints will give him away. So will the dictagraph, not to mention that even his breath is sometimes a silent witness against him.

No woman will cause speculation about her age by admitting that she used to get the old fashioned young men to write their names in her autograph album.

Next Monday at Chicago, judgment will be entered up against the pickpockets, crooks, highwaymen and body-snatchers. We are promised that the new articles of faith to be adopted will make Rome howl.

Teddy claims that he is going to start a bossless party, and will not have a boss connected with the Third term movement. By George, he must have overlooked the fact that he is inviting the ladies to take a hand in establishing Bull Mooseism.

Senator LaFollette has been successful in his persistent efforts to get Roosevelt to make a breast of his campaign subscriptions, but his leadership has received new impetus in the standpat acceptance of his bill revising the tariff on sugar.

In the House a few days ago Representative Rodenberg, Republican, of Illinois, attempted to defend President Taft's administration and declared that "it needs no defense." Well, any effort at defense comes too late. It already has been tried and found gully.

A campaign of education is needed in order to illuminate the orbit circumscribed by the Hon. Cone Johnson, of Texas. The Richmond Virginian appears never to have heard of that great aggregation headed by the Columbia State, the South Atlantic Cone Johnson League.

A device intended to check joy riding in another man's automobile consists of an arrangement by which two bright red disks automatically appear on the borrowed car. These are intended to notify the police that something is wrong. When the owner or his representative is using the car, the red disks do not show, another color being substituted by a simple contrivance controlled by a Yale lock.—New

COLD FEET ON ROOSEVELT

Rather than see another Democratic-Insurgent victory in the Senate, the standpat Republican Senators surrendered to the Progressives and helped them on Saturday to pass Senator LaFollette's bill to revise the sugar tariff. This may be a sign that the Republican majority is going to surrender to the Republican minority, and it may mean that the Insurgents and Standpatters are going to get together during the campaign, somewhat on "progressive" lines.

In their action on the sugar tariff,
the Insurgents seem to have deserted their Democratic allies, and it may indicate that most of them will desert Roosevelt, if they ever were for him. It is intimated that there is now very little third party sentiment among Progressive Senators and Representatives, and it is believed that very few of them will follow Roosevelt into the third party which is to be formally launched at Chicago next Monday.

This is borne out by a Washington special in Sunday's New York Tribune, a Standpat Republican paper, which has been strongly supporting Taft and vigorously attacking Roosevelt. "The Progressive Republicans in Congress," says the Tribune's staff correspondent, "with possibly few exceptions, do not propose to support the Bull Moose party. This is becoming daily more evident." We are rather inclined to believe that the staid old Tribune has correct lines on the situation, for we have regarded the indifference of the Progressive leaders towards the third party as ominous for the third term.

Roosevelt's fighting staff has dwindled down to himself and Senator Dixon, and we would not be surprised to see the National third term convention at Chicago prove a fiasco next Monday. It may be formidable, from the standpoint of Taft's election, but no one need be surprised to see a big slump of leading "progressives" away from Roosevelt when his convention meets and severs all relations with the Republican party. The Tribune's always well informed and careful correspondent throws this sidelight on the present situation:

"Many of the Progressives do not like President Taft, but they are growing more and more loath to abandon the Republican party. They have for a long time struggled against great odds to gain control of the party. They feel that they now have very nearly a majority, and they can see nothing to be gained by abandoning the advantage they now enjoy, the fruits of their long labors, and going out into the wilderness of third parties. Viewing the situation from a broad point of view, these men believe that only a little patience is needed to enable them to gain control of a great party with seven millions of voters, and that nothing is to be gained for Progressives by seeking to disrupt this great organization, which under Progressive leadership, may be made so powerful an instrument for the policies for which they stand.

"Looking at the situation from a narrower and more personal point of view, the Progressives can perceive only personal disaster for themselves if they separate from the Republican party and become members of the illiterate band of third parties. The programme of Mr. Roosevelt to put in the field complete third term tickets is especially obnoxious to Progressive members of the House, who would thus be favored either to abandon the Republican party, with no hope whatever of success, or to run on the Republican ticket and abandon what they have stood for in the cause of progress.

"Finally, there is a degree of sentiment—although it is difficult to get a genuine reactionary to admit it—among the Progressive Republicans which makes them reluctant to abandon 'the grand old party' to which they owe so much, and toward which many of them entertain that sense of gratitude which has been defined as 'a lively appreciation of favors to come.' Then, too, the reports from all sections of the country regarding the progress of the Bull Moose movement are discouraging. Frank Munsey, one of its most prominent sponsors, admits that it cannot succeed. From Oyster Bay come many emissaries who, under promise of absolute secrecy, relate that Colonel Roosevelt himself has no idea that he can be elected. Altogether, indications of defeat this year for the third term party are overwhelming. All except a few fanatics admit that at best all that can be expected is the defeat of Mr. Taft, and the defeat of Mr. Taft means nothing except a Democratic victory, with a strong probability that many of the most Progressive Republicans would be retired to private life."

It must be admitted that those are pretty good reasons for the evident failure of the Progressives to show any enthusiasm over the Bull Moose party. They certainly have cold feet on that proposition if not on Roosevelt himself.

DESERTS THE SINKING SHIP.

President Taft goes right on playing golf, but the news from his own State must be disconcerting. The Republican party in Ohio is so hopelessly divided, its nominee, after persistent efforts to reconcile the factions, has decided to get cold feet and jump
the game. Judge E. B. Dillon, of Columbus, was the party nominee, having been named for Governor at the second State Republican convention held July 2nd. However, owing to his inability to get the factions together, he has issued a public statement in which he says he will recall his acceptance of the nomination and let the Ohio Republicans name another man.

It is said Judge Dillon's determination to throw up the nomination has been known several days to the Republican State central committee, and that at a meeting of the committee tomorrow at Columbus his withdrawal from the nomination will be formally received and acted upon. The convention may be called together the third time. The nominee sees nothing but defeat for the party in November, and he does not care to lead a forlorn hope. Judge Dillon is spending the Summer at Mackinack Island, and from there he telegraphed the committee as follows:

"My written declaration placed in the hands of Chairman Burton was not read to the convention and I accepted nomination in the full presumption and belief that my acceptance would mean an united party and a single ticket in Ohio. All endeavoring at that behalf has failed despite the kind offices of my friends in each following of the party. The measure of justice due me, even though a mere nominee, requires my resignation as nominee for Governor and the same will be presented to the State central committee at its next meeting Wednesday."

Evidently, the judge is not a fighter and proposes to run away from defeat rather than stay in the fight and go down before the impending Democratic landslide November 5th. He does not propose to be beaten out of his boots and his withdrawal plainly indicates the hopelessness of Taft's chances to carry his own State against Woodrow Wilson for President. The judge is a Taft man and was a dark horse nominee of the State convention held July 2nd, before which the candidates for the nomination were A. L. Garford, of Elyria, a Roosevelt man; Lawrence K. Langdon, the Taft candidate, and
B. F. Kreger, who was the candidate of Cincinnati's machine delegation.

Judge Dillon was finally accepted as a compromise nominee, and it was believed that the factions would rally around him. His task was impossible, and it must be inferred that there is such a split in Ohio as to easily give that State to the Democratic candidate for President. This is a Democratic year.

HOI FOR CHARLOTTE

The annual convention of the North Carolina Good Roads Association will be held in Charlotte next Thursday and Friday. The State has been thoroughly aroused on the subject of improved rural highways, and the subject will be discussed at Charlotte in a more practical and thorough manner than at any other convention of the association. Within the past few years the good roads movement has made more progress and the benefits have been more emphasized by the highways already built, and the consequence is that a keener interest is being felt all over the State, and especially in those counties which are backward in this progressive and constructive work for the development of the State's agricultural resources.

However, good roads counties like New Hanover ought to be as fully and strongly represented as any other county, for it is necessary for us to get in close touch with the Statewide movement for a network of modern highways. Our county and city ought also to be represented for the reason that the delegates can carry to the convention a report that will greatly encourage other counties which should link up with New Hanover's good roads system centering at Wilmington. Indeed, our city and county ought to be well represented in order to get additional enthusiasm, for we will not be done building modern highways till every farming community can secure the economic advantages of good roads for further development of our large trucking and fruit growing interests.

We are glad to refer again to the fact that New Hanover has appointed a splendid delegation to go to Charlotte. It consists of Messrs. Wm. E.
Springer, W. D. Macmillan, Jr., L.
W. Moore, W. A. Dick, R. H. Pickett, H. deW. Rapalje, A. B. Skelding, J. M. Hall, M. S. Willard and Theodore G. Empe. That is a delegation of representative men, and it is hoped that they will get enthused and bear down on Charlotte in a way that will show to the State that this is a progressive part of North Carolina.
It will advertise us abroad, for the good roads movement is one which is attracting more widespread attention than any other great constructive movement in the country.

North Carolina is now in the eye of the world and she wants to keep there by advertising to the world that she will soon be covered with good roads from the sea to the mountains.

CURRENT COMMENT.

Judge Clark may not be in the running, but just at the present time his side is making as much fuss as any of them.—Durham Herald.

About the middle of November the Republican party will welcome home a large number of excellent citizens who think that they have left it forever.— Cleveland Leader.

North Carolina is to be congratulated on the high-class of men who represent her, not only in the National body, but all over the civilized world.
—Greensboro News (Ind.).

Those partisan papers in North Carolina are having a great time these days giving a lot of misinformation about the Senatorial candidates. The time has not yet come when the average editor, who is an average man, can take a position without being unfair to the other side. In the sweet by and bye we hope that disseminators of news and information will give the man they oppose a chance. If it were the habit of North Carolinians to treat all men and issues fairly, the custom of eating crow just after an election could be dispensd with.—Raleigh Times.

The proper size of sliced ham in a ham sandwich is a burning issue in North Carolina, as any Kitchen question ought to be. It is said that the ham in the Greensboro bread squares is so thin that the Greensboro Record can be read through it, but it is further alleged that in Charlotte they have a machine by which they photograph a piece of ham on the bread and then sell the product for a dime.
Of course, no one could expect to find a real ham sandwich in the Tar-heel State, such as can be found anywhere in the Old Dominion for a nickel, a great three-inch thick slice of red, lusciousness caught fast in the embrace of snowy, crisp and flaky old Virginia loaf, a full meal in itself.—Richmond Times-Dispatch.

An announcement of more than ordinary importance is that carried in a London cablegram to the effect that an international agreement has finally been arranged for forecasting weather conditions over the whole Atlantic basin and disseminating the forecasts through the United States Weather Bureau at Washington. Professor Willis L. Moore is said to have had the project in view ever since wireless telegraphy became a factor in the affairs of the world, and first broached the scheme at an international conference held in the British capital in July, 1909. It was then pointed out that the initial difficulty was the absolute inability of anybody so to control wireless communication as to prevent interference and to ensure prompt and accurate service. That difficulty, it would appear, has now been overcome.—Norfolk Virginian.

THE SOCIAL EVIL

Editor Morning Star:—I have just read with heartfelt approval, Dr. Milton's strong article in Sunday's Star on "The Social Evil." There is every reason to expect that the present grand jury will do its duty in the matter, where the law is so obviously and flagrantly broken.

Splendid progress has already been made in cleansing up the town from the vicious lawlessness of the operators of the prohibition law, who have done so much to degrade our city and now we look for great results in the campaign against the Social Evil.

Unquestionable the most prolic
source of misery, disease and crime, not to mention moral degradation, that our country and that it takes—50 million young girls every year to fill up the ranks of those who die or drop in to almshouses or hospitals. Surely we have food for heart-searching and prayerful thought in this statement.

I heard a physician of international fame say but recently that the infernal nature of the infection inflicted on women and certainly large are caused from the vile diseases of the social evil and when we realize that the source of this loath-some defilement is the unlawful and ungodly self-indulgence of boys and men who are to be the fathers and husbands of our land, we can understand that the sins of the fathers are indeed visited upon the children the third and fourth generation of them that hate God and despise the law that God has written in man's body: "The soul that sinneth, it shall die."

The astonishing statement was made by our State Board of Health about a year ago, I quote merely from memory: "That ten millions of our men are affected with venereal diseases," and hence these men who have been encouraged to sow wild seed into the bosom of our land sowing diseases the most loathsome and far-reaching in their baneful effect on body and mind of any known to man.
Our Angli-Saxon race, since the days when they cramed as barbarous tribes of the woods, have stood for the pri-ety of womanhood and the honor of chaste motherhood, and have been justly proud for the chivalry of our men in honorable love and war and it shocks a decent manhood to realize what degrading vices are tolerated and encouraged in our land and be it confessed with shame, too often by men who are members of our churches and call themselves followers of Jesus Christ.

But lately the voice of noble woman, who has done heroic service in Chicago, Miss Jane Adams, of Hull House Settlement, has thrown down a challenge to the Christian Church to rally its members for enlistment in the great work that is being waged against the organized traffic in the bodies and souls of our girls and women. Only recently the president of the Florence Crittenden Mission, Mrs.
Robert Barrett, held our Church Congress spellbound by her impassioned appeal to the men of the churches to rise in the midst of an awakened conscience and do adequate service in this great cause.

What can we do about it?
In the first place we can enforce the law and thus exercise the formal powers of the city and State and Nation and where the laws are inadequate we can see that adequate laws are passed.

In the second place, we must inform the public and create a wholesome public conscience in regard to this vice—a vice that can never be limited to the individual or his abject accomplice, but must reach out and poison, with its deadly venom, other and innocent lives.

Not least important is the determination to face this great problem as brave men and women, in the full consciousness that we are fighting for our country and our homes no less than for God; and we shall never reach a satisfactory conclusion until we accept the fact that there is only one standard of purity, no more binding on woman than on man.

Today the degraded woman is ostracized by women and men alike, as being unclean and unfit to associate with the respectable people in the community and this is right; but it can never be all right until the men who are responsible for the degradation of these women are placed in the same foul class with those whom they have dragged down.

In order to meet the issue squarely,
we must begin with the boy and girl in the home and so teach them the laws of the body and the dignity and sacredness of all its rightful functions, that our sons and daughters may grow up with a conception of the body that will make it as unthinkable for the daughter to do so—without suffering the just penalty of becoming social outcasts.

And finally, when we set our faces as flint to do our whole duty in this matter, we shall approach our brother or sister who has fallen in the spirit of the Master, not to condone but to save; not to spurn but to love.

And surely the goal is already meas-urably in sight, when women like Jane Adams of Hull House, and Miss Barrett raise their godly voices, joined with men like Dr. Howard A. Kelly, whose life work in the alleviation of the suffering women by the painful process of the knife has taught not only the deepest reverence and highest admiration for women but has impressed so ineradicably upon him, as upon others, man's more than brutal treatment of his trusting and helpless victim—the woman who loves him.

This kind of victory cannot come but by prayer and fasting, by sacrifice and heroic service through unwearying years.

KINSTON AFFAIRS

Assault Case Tried—Negro Bishop for Wilson—Army Worm
(Special Star Correspondence.)
Kinston, N. C., July 29.—After hearing the State's side of the case against Jonah Holmes, a negro youth charged with attempted criminal assault upon a 16-year-old girl of his race at Falling Creek, Justice Peebles in this city, bound Holmes over to court under $500 bond. Holmes made no statement before the court, but in a private statement indicated that his defense would be collusion on the girl's part. He was also put under $100 bond for carrying a pistol. He could furnish neither, and is in jail.

An interesting communication has been had by the pastor of "Big Zion" church, one of the strongest negro churches in this city, from Bishop Alexander Walters, of New York, in which the bishop states that he will give Governor Wilson his "enthusiastic support." Bishop Walters, who has visited Kinston many times, and has been heard by large audiences of white as well as negroes, is one of the most influential men of his race, and is in charge of several large conferences of the African Methodist Episcopal Zion church, including those of New England, North Carolina, the Cape Fear, Philadelphia and Baltimore, Liberia, East Gold Coast, West Gold Coast and the Dominican Republic, and is one of the eight members of the board of bishops of the great negro denomination. He states as his reason for supporting the Democratic Presidential nominee that the influencing Governor Wilson he found the New Jersey executive "friendly to the colored people, and willing to give them a fair deal."

Kinston was visited by the executive committee of the Baptist orphange, who went over "Cedar Dell," the beautiful estate recently donated by Captain and Mrs. W. L. Kennedy for the establishment of an eastern branch of the Thomasville orphange. The committee consists of Rev. W. J.
Kessler, of Thomasville, general manager; Mr. J. C. Whitley, of Newbern; Mr. Mitchell, of Aulander, and Mr.
Noel, of Roxboro. These gentlemen were accompanied over the grounds of the proposed "Kennedy Home" by Mr. J. H. Canady, of this city. It was the purpose of their visit to familialize themselves with the property and take a cursory view with reference to future development of the same.

Some cotton is coming into the local market now, but little of it is being sold, even at the attractive price of 12-13 cents. Encouraged by the bullish condition of the new crop, farmers are storing their staple for higher prices.

The army worm has appeared in Lenoir county in great numbers, and to some extent in the counties to the south, according to farmers from several sections who were here today.
Though not doing much damage to corn and cotton, the pest sweeps whole fields of hay away as though a fire had passed over it. It is a peculiarly restless tramp, and frequently when millions of them are seen in the evening on one farm, next morning not a vestige of him is found, nor any trace of his migration. The depredations of the worm are causing much concern in this vicinity.

BUSY DAY IN SUPERIOR COURT

One Trial Case Disposed of—More "Nolo Contendere" Matters Considered—Number Plead Guilty of Retailing.

Only one trial case was taken up in Superior Court yesterday, but with it, and the consideration of a number of the so-called nolo contendere cases, which went over to this week when the whole list was called Saturday, and with the arranging of bonds of a number of newly-indicted defendants charged with violations of the prohibition law, the day was a busy one. Court took a recess at 5 o'clock last evening until 9:30 this morning.

The case against Jas. H. Beatty, charged with burglary, taken up, and it is also probable that the court will hear argument this morning on the motion of the solicitor to remove the case to the county of New Hanover, charged with the murder of Edward Cromwell, to another county, and to another county, the Board of County Commissioners, filed affidavits last week asking that the case be moved and setting forth their reasons for making the removal, and yesterday Maj. W. N. Harris, clerk of the Superior Court, also filed an affidavit urging the removal of the case.

It is believed that with the Solicitor's affidavit, backed by the affidavits of the chairman of the Board of County Commissioners and the clerk of the New Hanover Superior Court, the court will order the removal of the case. It is said that Burgaw, the county seat of Pender county, and Jacksonville, the county seat of Onslow, are being considered, and that there is a strong likelihood that the latter place will be chosen.

The affidavit of Major Harris, asking removal of the Holly case, a copy of which was served on Wm. J. Bellamy and C. D. Weeks, Esqs., counsel for Holly, is as follows:

"State of North Carolina, County of New Hanover.

"W. N. Harris, being duly sworn, says: That he is Clerk of the Superior Court of New Hanover county; That in his opinion the ends of justice will be better met by moving the case of State vs. J. C. Holly, now pending in the Superior Court of New Hanover county, to another county as the same has been pending in this county for several years, has been tried twice and the evidence at each trial fully set out in full in the daily newspapers published in the City of Wilmington, N. C., and that the community in general are very familiar with evidence in the case; that at each trial of said case, it has been necessary to summon several hundred jurors and on account of so many of them having formed and expressed an opinion as to the guilt in most cases of the defendant, it has been extremely difficult to get a jury and in the opinion of your affiant, it would not be possible to secure a jury in New Hanover county to agree upon a verdict in said case; that the said case has entailed up to this time much expense to the county of New Hanover and if another trial was had in said county a much greater expense would be entailed, without a jury agreeing upon a verdict; that in the opinion of your affiant, a verdict could be reached in another county where the residents are not so familiar with the facts in the case, and certainly not a greater expense than in the county of New Hanover as it would be easier to obtain a jury in a county where the jurors were not familiar with the facts of the case; that although the expense of carrying witnesses and prisoner to another county would entail a greater expense, still, in the opinion of your affiant, this would be offset by the probability of a verdict, which in the county of New Hanover your affiant does not think would be at all probable.

"W. N. HARRIS.

"Judge Superior Court."

The most important of the nolo contendere cases considered yesterday was that against C. T. Powell. When the case was called last Saturday the State introduced evidence to show that the defendant had violated his agreement entered into at the January term of court by continuing the sale of intoxicants, and the solicitor prayed judgment, but W. P. Gafford, Esq., counsel for the defendant, pleaded for mercy for his client on the ground that the man's mind had been so weakened by drinking and perhaps illness that he possibly did not understand the obligation he had taken upon himself. The court left the case open until yesterday and instructed Dr. C. D. Bell, Powell's physician, Dr. Chas. T. Nesbitt, city superintendent of health, and county superintendent of health, to investigate the matter and make a joint report on the physical and mental condition of the defendant.

They submitted their report yesterday morning, it being to the effect that the defendant's mind and physical condition were weakened by the long-continued and unrestricted use of alcohol, and that his mind was perhaps not capable of performing its functions.

In view of these facts the court considered that the most humane manner in which to dispose of the case would be to sentence Powell to a term of one year in the county jail, and to recommend to the Board of County Commissioners that he be placed in the local hospital for such treatment as needed, with the further recommendation that he be sent to the county farm for the remainder of his term, after he had recovered from the effects of his dissipation. In doing this Judge Carter declared that the defendant would be placed where he could no longer violate the law and where he could not continue to do himself harm from the unrestricted use of alcohol. The jury returned a verdict of guilty with a recommendation for mercy, but sentence was not pronounced yesterday. Ruben was released under $500 bond for his appearance from day to day until the final disposition of the case is made.

The specific charge against Ruben was that he purchased several hundred pounds of car brasses belonging to the A. C. L. Railroad, from Theodore Donaldson, colored, knowing the goods to have been stolen at the time of the purchase. Donaldson was tried in the Recorder's court some time ago for the theft of the brasses, and is now serving a term on the county roads. Wm. J. Bellamy, Esq., appeared for Ruben and Solicitor Shaw prosecuted for the State. The jury returned a verdict after being out for a comparatively short time.

Nolo Contendere Cases.

H. E. Truelove, one of the nolo contendere defendants who was absent when the cases were called Saturday, and against whom the State introduced evidence which the attorneys claim shows that he has violated his agreement, came into court and gave $1,000 bond for his appearance from day to day until his case is disposed of for the present term.

J. D. Burnett, colored, another nolo contendere defendant, whose case was called Saturday, but was left open until yesterday, and against whom the State introduced evidence, was required to give an additional bond of $500 to appear at each criminal term, including the January term, 1913, to show that he has not violated his obligation to the court under the nolo contendere plea.

The State had no evidence that Chas. Richter and J. F. Mason had violated their nolo contendere agreement, and the cases were continued under former order.

Of those who have been arrested on indictments charging violations of the prohibition law since the present term of court convened, the majority of them have accepted Judge Carter's offer of amnesty and have thrown themselves on the mercy of the court by entering pleas of guilty. Those who have done so have been given an opportunity to furnish acceptable bond for their appearance from day to day until the cases are settled, and a number of them are out on such bonds. Several others are in jail.

Those who have pleaded guilty and been released on temporary bonds, are as follows: Chas. Rogers, two cases, $500 bond; J. E. Ennett, three cases, $500 bond; Tom C. Croon, three cases, $300 bond; J. R. Kennedy, one case, $300 bond; John Turner, one case, $500 bond; J. C. Vereen, one case, $500 bond; Ira J. Scott, one case, $500 bond; J. S. Westbrook, one case, $500 bond.

Elijah Chadwick pleaded guilty to a charge of violating the prohibition law, and in default of bond went to jail. Fox Riley, who was arrested last week on a similar charge, has not entered a plea of guilty and is still in jail.

The grand jury yesterday returned another batch of indictments charging violations of the prohibition law against the following: Newton Ship, Tom Croon, Zack Walton, Elijah Chadwick, Ben Crumpler, J. D. Wright, J. S. Westbrook, Nick Mitchell, J. W. Capps, J. E. Taylor, Geo. W. Wogbe, Ira A. Hines.

It is said that the grand jury still has several cases yet ahead of it, and that it hardly will adjourn before tomorrow afternoon, and possibly not then. Thus far practically all of the indictments returned have charged violations of the prohibition law, but a large number of witnesses are said to have testified before the body as to the owners and operators of automobiles carrying hacks which make a business of carrying passengers to houses of ill-repute, and also as to the owners or agents renting houses to women of ill-repute and there is said to be a likelihood that bills charging nuisance will be returned against some of these.

At the request of the defense, the case against Philister King, colored, charged with the murder of Abraham Ford, colored, was yesterday continued for the term.

The case against James H. Beatty, colored, charged with burglary in entering the home of Maggie Moore, colored, will be taken up today, a special venire having been drawn yesterday. The negro is the one who shot and seriously injured Mounted Policeman R. J. Thompson several months ago. Beatty has been tried in the Recorder's court for the assault on Officer Thompson, and a sentence of two years on the county roads was imposed.

W. P. Stacy, and Louis J. Poisson, Esqs., have been appointed by Judge Carter to defend Beatty, as the negro had no money to employ counsel. In making the appointment Judge Carter told the young attorneys that he did not like to place such a responsibility upon them in a case where they can expect no remuneration, but that he felt it his duty to appoint able counsel, so that the defendant's interests might be looked after fully. He spoke very highly of the two young men and thanked them for undertaking the defense.

The so-called "fish trust cases" may come up tomorrow, and it is thought likely that several of the nolo contendere cases may be adjusted at that time. It is said that J. O. Grimes, who forfeited $1,800 bond when he failed to answer Saturday, will give himself up and throw himself on the mercy of the court.

Mr. T. A. Wortham Bereaved.

Friends will tenderly sympathize with Mr. T. A. Wortham, of this city, in the death of his father, Mr. R. F. Wortham, which occurred at his home in Granville county, this State, Saturday. The deceased is also survived by his wife and a daughter, Mrs. L. F. Hamme, of Granville county. Mr. Wortham was a consistent member of the Presbyterian church and was a member of the War Between the States, being a member of a company in the 45th North Carolina Regiment. He was a good citizen and his death is mourned by the entire community in which he lived.

COUNTY NOW OWNS PROPERTY

Deed Received From Government Conveying Part of Marine Hospital Grounds for Educational Purposes—School Needs.

The County Board of Education yesterday received from Washington the deed formally conveying to the county for educational purposes a large portion of the marine hospital reservation, in the eastern part of the city, recently donated to the county by an act of Congress. There are 34 1-3 acres in the tract.

Mr. Franklin MacVeagh, Secretary of the Treasury, signed the deed of conveyance, which is rather brief, consisting of only one and a half typewritten pages. J. O. Carr, Esq., chairman of the County Board of Education, was asked last night with regard to the plans for utilizing the property. He gave out the following statement:

"For more than two years we have been exercised about our colored schools because of their inadequacy and dilapidated buildings, especially as to the Williston school. The lot upon which this school is situated is not large enough for a new building, which would accommodate the colored children and we have not had the money with which to build, anyway. Many months ago Senator Simmons began negotiations with the Secretary of the Treasury at Washington to obtain a part of the marine hospital reserve as a site for a new school. It was found that the Secretary did not have authority to donate the land or to give a lease of sufficient duration to justify us in building on it.

"Senator Simmons then introduced a bill in the Senate donating the part of the property lying between 10th and 13th streets, covering seven and one-half blocks, or 34 acres, to be used for industrial school purposes. This bill passed both houses of Congress and was signed by the President, and the deed received is in pursuance of this act of Congress.

"We had hoped to dispose of the Williston school property and build on the new site this Summer, but on account of delay it is now too late to attempt a change before another year. The act of Congress does not require the property to be used for the colored race, but it is our purpose to so use it as the white schools are now provided for. It is our purpose to begin plans and arrangements for a modern industrial school and to be ready to occupy same October 1st, 1913. The entire property will be utilized and will not only afford space for all necessary buildings, but also for playgrounds and parks for the colored people.

"We are hopeful of aid from other sources than the public school fund, but there is nothing definite as to this to be given out at this time. With the cooperation of the colored people we think that our plans will mean much for their race and we expect them to help us in every way possible."

NEW YORK GUN MEN.

East Side Scene of Two More Shootings Yesterday—Fatality.

New York, July 29.—Two daring shootings in which store keepers in business sections of the city were the victims, one resulting in a fatality, which caused death, marked the latest outburst by gun men in the city today.

A man identified by the police as Raymond Forby, alias "Clark," with a long criminal record, who was captured by officers at the point of revolver, is locked up charged with the murder of the victim. He was identified as their assailant by both victims. According to the police, Forby was one of the three men who shot and killed Walter Meseritz, a Flatbush haberdasher, in a hold-up last February. The prisoner, who described himself as Charles Wilson, 25 years old, a Brooklyn salesman, denies his guilt.

Morris Schwartzkopf, an Eastside jeweler, was shot in the neck by a man who had called to have a watch repaired when an argument arose over the charge for the work. The man walked calmly from the store and disappeared. Before he died Schwartzkopf identified Wilson or Forby as his assailant. The second victim was Maxwell Katz, chief clerk in a large cigar store in Cooper Square. A stranger who had entered the place suddenly drew a revolver and began shooting. Katz closed in with the man and was shot three times, receiving serious injuries. A crowd charged the assailant into the cellar of an apartment house. There two policemen who entered with drawn revolvers found Wilson, or Forby, hiding under a bundle of rags. Katz declared without hesitation that the prisoner was the man who had shot him.

BIG TEMPERANCE RALLY.

Colored People Have Arranged for Gathering This Evening.

The Seagrave Church Chautauque Camp, which is located on Sixth street, near Red Cross, is in readiness for the big temperance mass meeting which is to be held by the colored people tonight, beginning at 7:30 o'clock. An elaborate musical programme has been arranged. There will be present a large number of prominent white citizens, some of whom will make addresses. Among those expected to attend are Mayor Joseph D. Smith, Rev. W. H. Milton, rector of St. James' Episcopal church; Prof. Washington Catlett, county superintendent of schools; Dr. D. W. Bullock, Mr. A. B. Skelding, general manager of the Tidewater Power Co.; Mr. W. M. Cunningham, Councilman W. E. Perdue and P. Q. Moore, Mr. W. B. Cooper, Rev. J. P. King, Rev. M. H. Brown, Greensboro, and others. Seats have been reserved for white people. An attendance of about 1,000 of both white and colored, is expected. The opening address will be made by Mayor Smith.

Mr. Robert H. Cowan Improving.

Friends of Mr. Robert H. Cowan, who has been in the hospital since Friday, having undergone an operation for a knee cap which was dislocated some months ago, will be delighted to know that he is improving and that his physician gives him every encouragement to believe that he will soon be able to be out again.

Special Tonight at Lumina.

The man walked calmly from the store and disappeared. Before he died Schwartzkopf identified Wilson or Forby as his assailant. The second victim was Maxwell Katz, chief clerk in a large cigar store in Cooper Square. A stranger who had entered the place suddenly drew a revolver and began shooting. Katz closed in with the man and was shot three times, receiving serious injuries. A crowd charged the assailant into the cellar of an apartment house. There two policemen who entered with drawn revolvers found Wilson, or Forby, hiding under a bundle of rags. Katz declared without hesitation that the prisoner was the man who had shot him.

BIG TEMPERANCE RALLY.

Colored People Have Arranged for Gathering This Evening.

The Seagrave Church Chautauque Camp, which is located on Sixth street, near Red Cross, is in readiness for the big temperance mass meeting which is to be held by the colored people tonight, beginning at 7:30 o'clock. An elaborate musical programme has been arranged. There will be present a large number of prominent white citizens, some of whom will make addresses. Among those expected to attend are Mayor Joseph D. Smith, Rev. W. H. Milton, rector of St. James' Episcopal church; Prof. Washington Catlett, county superintendent of schools; Dr. D. W. Bullock, Mr. A. B. Skelding, general manager of the Tidewater Power Co.; Mr. W. M. Cunningham, Councilman W. E. Perdue and P. Q. Moore, Mr. W. B. Cooper, Rev. J. P. King, Rev. M. H. Brown, Greensboro, and others. Seats have been reserved for white people. An attendance of about 1,000 of both white and colored, is expected. The opening address will be made by Mayor Smith.

Mr. Robert H. Cowan Improving.

Friends of Mr. Robert H. Cowan, who has been in the hospital since Friday, having undergone an operation for a knee cap which was dislocated some months ago, will be delighted to know that he is improving and that his physician gives him every encouragement to believe that he will soon be able to be out again.

Special Tonight at Lumina.

Mrs. Frank Pearson will sing two songs tonight at Lumina at intermission between dances. Time about 9:15 and 9:30 P. M.

THE RECORDER'S COURT.

Time Monday Morning Session—The Cases Tried.

Yesterday's session of the Recorder's court was a very tame one for a Monday morning sitting, this situation possibly being due to the fact that Superior Court is very much in session just at present. The docket was not at all congested.

A case charging James Barnett, colored, with an assault with a deadly weapon on Vergil Simmons, was dismissed by Recorder Furlong because the officer who made the arrest was not present to give his testimony. The Recorder gave notice that hereafter, if the officer who makes the arrest is not present to prosecute the case, it will be dismissed and the officer will be taxed with costs.

Willie Nixon, colored, was fined $10 and costs for disorderly conduct. Anthony Johnson, colored, was found guilty of an assault and battery on James Wiggins and judgment was suspended on payment of costs. Judgment was suspended in the case against Sam Henry, a small colored boy, charged with riding a bicycle after dark without a light. A nol pros with leave was taken in the case charging William Hensley, colored, with violating the driving ordinance and judgment was suspended on Cass Howard, colored, charged with a similar offense.

Two drunks, the first in the Recorder's court in a number of days, contributed the usual $5 and costs each. A case against James McIntyre, colored, charged with carrying a concealed weapon and resisting an officer was continued.

Cases against J. R. Kennedy, A. D. Lassiter, Cust Kondiles and S. G. Balsom, charged with violations of the prohibition law, were continued until Wednesday, as was a case against S. H. Mintz, charged with a similar offense.

Three Schooners Arrive

There were arrivals of three schooners at the port Saturday and Sunday, all with cargoes, and consigned to Messrs. Maffitt & Wood. The Anna R. Heidritter, 610 tons, Capt. Beam, arrived with acid phosphate for the Armour Fertilizer Works; the Greenleaf Johnson, 322 tons, Capt. Longstreet, arrived from Jersey City with cargo of cement for the Seaboard terminals, and the schooner Victor C. Records, 288 tons, Capt. Griffith, arrived from Philadelphia, also with cement for the Seaboard Air Line.

SOCIAL & PERSONAL

Mr. and Mrs. W. G. Ray, have returned from a visit to Barnwell, S. C., and Augusta, Ga.

Sunday's Charlotte Observer: "Mr. and Mrs. George C. Southerland, of Wilmington, were guests in the city yesterday."

Yesterday's Fayetteville Observer: "Miss Bessie Louise King, of Wilmington, is visiting her sister, Mrs. Cliff S. Hopkins."

Mrs. W. M. Glover and Mr. W. C. Glover, of Fayetteville, are in the city, visiting Mrs. Glover's sister, Mrs. N. E. Bunting.

Sheriff James H. Lanier and son, Jeff, of Harnett county, are in the city, the guests of the sheriff's son, Mr. Homer Lanier.

Mr. Hodges Bond and Mr. Francis Sheetz, of Fayetteville, are spending a few days in the city, guests of Mr. and Mrs. Silas Sheetz.

Sunday's Savannah Morning News: "Miss Nell Thompson, who has been visiting Mr. and Mrs. John E. Jussey, has returned to her home in Wilmington, N. C."

Misses Mary E. Pitt and Marguerite McAllister have returned from a visit to White Sulphur Springs, Fla., Valdosta, Ga., and other points.

Raleigh News and Observer, Sunday: "Mrs. Albert Stockard has returned to Wilmington, after visiting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Jerome Stockard."

Miss Madge McDougal has returned from a two weeks' visit in New York and other Northern cities. Her mother and sister accompanied her to New York, but will not return until later.

Miss Ruth Parker has returned from a month's visit to Miss Ida May Register, at Clinton. She was accompanied home by her sister and brother, Miss Gladys Parker and Master A. J. Parker, who have been on a visit to relatives at Ashton.

Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Thompson, of Raleigh, who have been the guests of Mr. and Mrs. L. E. Thomas, at 411 North Second street for some time, leave this afternoon for their home. Mr. Thompson is one of the most popular engineers on the Seaboard Air Line and is a very close friend to Mr. Thomas.

Mrs. J. J. Kelly was hostess at an outing at Carolina Beach Sunday in honor of Miss Elizabeth Wood, of Charlottesville, Va., who is visiting at Mrs. Kelly's home. Some 25 or 30 of Mrs. Kelly's boarders enjoyed the outing. The party went down on the early boat Sunday morning and returned on the last boat at night, after having spent a most enjoyable day.

Mrs. R. M. Wescott, little son and two daughters, Misses Mary and Laura Wescott, of Augusta, Ga., who have been visiting in the city for a short time, left last night for New York and Atlantic City, where they expect to spend some time.

PARTY RETURNS FROM PLEASANT TRIP NORTH.

After a most delightful trip going and coming and a pleasant sojourn of several days in the metropolis, Rev. Dr. J. H. Foster, pastor of the First Baptist church, and party returned to Wilmington last evening at 6:30 o'clock on the Clyde Line steamer from New York. The party was chaperoned by Dr. Foster and the trip covered a period of about ten days. Twelve members of the party returned yesterday, while several others went to different places for a visit before returning. In the party returning last night, besides Dr. Foster, were Miss Lena Foyles, Miss Nettie King, Miss Julia Hays, Misses Cornell and Ione Foster, Rev. M. O. Alexander, J. O. Martin, A. S. Winstead, Ralph Hodges, Leonard Gore and Miss Graham. Miss Lillian Fonville went from New York to Washington, where she will spend a few days and then go to Norfolk for a visit before returning. Miss Bertha Brady went to Brooklyn to visit a cousin and from there will go to Norfolk. Mr. A. O. True and brother went to a point in New Jersey, where they will spend a month with relatives.

WOUNDS WERE FATAL.

Sequel to Secret Order Initiation at Honeypath, S. C.

Anderson, S. C., July 29.—Milton Taylor, who was shot Friday night by Furman Bagwell, while initiating the latter into the Woodmen of the World, died today. Bagwell has not been arrested and Taylor's father said he did not desire to prosecute him.

Bagwell became excited by the display of firearms and the explosion of blank cartridges during the ceremonies and rushed out of the lodge room. Securing a pistol he rushed back and fired three times at Taylor who was leading the degree team. Taylor lingered between life and death until this morning.

KILLED THREE, THEN HIMSELF.

Oklahoma Coal Miner Nearly Exterminated Whole Family.

McCurran, Okla., July 29.—Robert Farmer, a coal miner, shot and killed his wife, David Story, his brother-in-law, tonight shot Story's wife, probably fatally, and killed himself. Farmer and his wife have been separated. Tonight he went to the home of Mrs. Farmer's father, Samuel Gregg, and as soon as the door was opened began shooting.

"That Which Stands First and is Most to be Desired by All Happy, Honest and Healthy-Minded Men, is Ease With Dignity."

The dignity of men depends upon the manner in which they do commonplace things. The paying of one's bills by check—whether those bills are large or small—adds dignity to the dealings of any man which the use of currency wholly lacks.

—Mr. Arthur G. McCartney, manager of the National Vacuum Sales Co., is in the city on a visit to his old home. He is one of the young men of Wilmington who has "made good" in the outside world and has many friends who have been delighted to see him again.

—Arrivals at The Southern yesterday included L. C. Ward, Nichols, S. C.; L. F. Swain, Beaufort; D. E. Barbour, Apex; C. C. Harrell, Hargett; J. A. Zibbell, Wallace; J. A. Dixon and Mrs. W. J. Marshall, Rocky Mount; W. P. Flynn, Currie; E. J. Rogers, Jr., Newbern; J. C. Mintz, Southport.

—Among the arrivals yesterday at the Colonial Hotel were: E. L. White, Norfolk, Va.; J. M. Leach, Southern Pines; Mr. and Mrs. H. O. Green, Bryan, Ga.; L. P. Jones, Birmingham, Ala.; E. E. Huston and family, Greensboro; Miss L. Carter, New York; and Miss H. Bradshaw, Rose Hill.

WRIGHTSVILLE BEACH

Another very successful children's souvenir dance was given at Lumina last night. About 450 children lined up for the grand march to receive souvenirs.

Mrs. Wm. A. Jones and daughter, Miss Rebecca, of Elmsburg, Pa., left yesterday afternoon after having been guests for several weeks of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Jones at the Atlantic cottage.

J. Sprunt Newton, Esq., of Fayetteville, spent the week-end at the Seashore Hotel. He has many friends in Wilmington and was most pleasantly greeted by many at the resort Sunday.

R. H. Sykes, Esq., returned Sunday to his home in Durham, after a week's stay at the Seashore Hotel. He was formerly Recorder at Durham. He is an old Wilmingtonian and his father lives here now.

Mrs. P. R. Albright and the Misses Albright gave a charming tea at their cottage Saturday afternoon. The affair proved one of the most enjoyable of the several social events of the season on the beach.

After spending several weeks at the Seashore Hotel, Mrs. George Forester and Mrs. Willie Van Winkle have returned to their homes in Atlanta. Mrs. W. C. Jarnigan, Mrs. Forester's sister, will remain at the hotel some weeks longer.

Among the recent arrivals at the Hanover Inn are: H. D. Carmichael, Marion, S. C.; Mr. and Mrs. Sol. Well and Mrs. Oettinger, Goldsboro; Mrs. L. Einstein, Cincinnati; D. R. Cecil, Lexington; Dr. E. B. Utley and Andrew Owens, Marion, S. C.

Dr. Mae Smith, of Rowland, was host at a fishing party Sunday, having as his guests the following: Messrs. Joe Everett and B. Floyd, Spartanburg, S. C.; J. S. Johnson, Atlanta; E. L. Smith, Laurinburg; A. P. Price, Birmingham; and C. McD. Dieus, Wilmington. They caught about 200 fish.

Sunday's Raleigh News and Observer: "Miss Ethel Smith has gone to Chadbourn to visit Miss Berta Huffman, after which she will spend a few weeks at Wrightsville Beach. Misses Annie and Carrie Lowrey returned yesterday from Wrightsville Beach, where they have been spending the past two weeks."

Editor Wade H. Harris, of the Charlotte Daily Observer, after spending a few days very pleasantly at the Seashore Hotel on his way from Morehead City, where he attended the annual meeting of the press association, left yesterday afternoon for his home. Mrs. Harris and daughter, Miss Cora Harris, will remain at the Seashore for a few days longer.

With the exception of the Fourth of July, the largest crowd of the season visited Wrightsville Beach Sunday. More people were handled by the Tidewater Power Company on its suburban line than on any other one day in the history of the resort, excepting, of course, the Fourth of July crowds. The hotels and boarding houses were crowded for the week-end.

Members of the old volunteer fire department of Cedartown, Ga., left Sunday for their home, after spending 10 days most pleasantly at the Oceanic Hotel. The organization is maintained now solely for social purposes and every year the members have an outing at some resort. For several seasons they have visited Wrightsville Beach. Including members of their families there were about 40 in the party.

A very successful fishing party went out in the sharpie Edwin, Capt. Salter, from the Oceanic Hotel yesterday afternoon, catching a large number of pig fish, black fish and Spanish mackerel. Those in the party were Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Fountain, of Wrightsville Beach; Misses Lucile and Katie Lee Handly, of Durham; Mrs. Powell and Miss Jeannette Bridger, of Bladenboro; Mr. and Mrs. Jno. R. Hanby, of Wilmington; Mrs. Wine, of Wilmington, and Mr. J. B. Fountain, of Wilmington.

Among the arrivals Sunday and yesterday at the Oceanic Hotel were Misses Winnie and Fanny Swinson, Goldsboro; W. W. Stallings, Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Wearn, O. P. Shell, G. L. Capell, Raleigh; W. N. Robertson, Hinton James, D. Stewart, Laurinburg; A. B. Newton, Rose Hill; Mrs. C. S. Fleming, Jacksonville, Fla.; Misses Hilda and Miriam Weinstein and A. Weinstein, Lumberton; R. H. McGirt, Rowland; Jas. A. Shaw, Maxton; H. Hasty, B. McCallum, Miss Alice Hasty, Maxton; J. O. Jones, Winston-Salem; C. L. Beville and R. G. Haigh, Fayetteville; D. K. Futch, Monroe; W. L. Roper and W. L. Goodwin, Laurinburg; A. Davidson, Atlanta; T. A. Davis, Clinton; P. L. Runk, Southport; Heyman Eystein, Goldsboro; W. P. Young, Atlanta; D. A. McCormick, R. H. McMillan and Will Andrews, McDonald; Miss Blanche Ivey, Rocky Mount.

All those who attended the concert at Lumina Sunday night are enthusiastic in their praise of the fine musical programme provided by Prof. John F. Kneisel and his special orchestra of 18 pieces. The excellent work of the orchestra on this occasion is proof of Prof. Kneisel's ability as a leader, the entire programme being rendered in faultless style. The large audience, estimated to be 1,500 people, were lavish in their applause and an encore followed nearly every number on the programme. The best liked piece played by the orchestra was the grand selection from "Rigoletto," though the selections from "La Boheme" and "The Spring Maid" melodies were also especially pleasing. The concert Sunday night proved such an overwhelming success that it is likely that the special orchestra of 18 pieces will perform again next Sunday night.

Arrivals at the Seashore Hotel Sunday and yesterday included the following: J. D. Bardin, Wilson; W. R. Boyle and Chas. A. Price, Washington, D. C.; E. Colwell, Jr., Greensboro; Mr. and Mrs. F. M. Rodgers, Jr., Florence, S. C.; J. K. Crosswell, Sumter, S. C.; G. W. Jones and G. R. Williams, Mullins; A. P. Harrell, J. P. Harrell, R. R. Pegues and M. K. Pegues, Cheraw; J. S. Spong, Charlotte; Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Sandrock and Miss Jessie Smith, Cheraw; O. F. Floyd, Fremont; H. C. Whitlock, Indianapolis, Ind.; F. S. Soler, Latta, S. C.; S. W. Cooper, Jr., Fayetteville; J. C. Otis, Columbia; W. W. Terry and J. Ross McNeal, Burgaw; H. H. Clifton and C. H. Knight, Faison; W. G. Nichols, Nichols, S. C.; W. W. Robertson, Charlotte; C. Roy Smith, Timmonsville; J. H. Casper, Marion; J. A. Evans, Latta; Sam Clark, Tarboro; Daniel Sands and Walter Horne, Black Creek; L. V. Butler, Greensboro; M. H. Cox, Charleston; Louis Rollins and Oscar Rollins, Columbia; Mrs. G. A. Roper, Laurinburg; K. Curlett and P. W. Covington, Tarboro; J. L. T. Lane, Faison; Miss Marie McCullen, Raleigh; John A. Holmes and W. W. Corbett, Mebane.

Mrs. Frank Pearson again demonstrated her ability Sunday to attract a large crowd to the Lumina concert. Large attendance always results from the appearance of her name on the programme. Sunday's concert broke all records for the size of crowd. That the public appreciates the high-class of her performance is shown by the increasing numbers that go to Lumina to hear her and the enthusiasm that they always display when she sings. At Sunday's concert Mrs. Pearson sang with her usual ability and charm, and each of her two songs received encores. Mrs. Pearson besides possessing an unusually fine voice is a woman of fine presence. She will sing two songs at Lumina tonight. There are probably many who cannot be present at the Sunday concert who will go to Lumina tonight when she will sing "Just a Dream of You, Dear," by Milton Weil and F. Henri Klickeiman; and "Lagging the Baby to Sleep," by Louis F. Muir, both of which are new, having just been produced in New York. The latter, while a humorous selection—it represents the man of the family putting the baby to sleep—has a catchy lullaby refrain running through the song. Mrs. Pearson will make her appearance at Lumina tonight about 9:15 o'clock and will complete her part of the programme about 9:45.

LOCAL DOTS.

—An excursion from points up the Seaboard Air Line road will be conducted to Wilmington Thursday of this week. It is expected that a large crowd will come down. The train will arrive some time in the morning and return, that night.

—Considerable interest is being manifested in the trash contest conducted under the direction of the city health department. This is the second contest this summer and will close Thursday of this week. Prizes of $5 are given in each of the five wards of the city. An enormous quantity of trash has been collected and removed as a result of the contests.

—Mr. Franklin P. White, of Shalotte, inventor of the patent, portable coffee can, mention of which has been made in these columns, spent yesterday in the city and informs The Star that he has received the following additional subscriptions to the capital stock of the company which he is organizing to exploit his invention: J. P. Council, Wananish, 10 shares, $1,000; J. B. Mercer, Wilmington, five shares, $500; S. S. Drew, five shares, $500. Mr. White further says that he was offered yesterday $10,000 for his invention but that it is in the hands of the company which he is organizing and it does not care as yet to sell.

BUYS COUNTY PROPERTY

Mr. Frank L. Huggins Purchases Site on Smith's Creek for Plant of Huggins Naval Stores Company—Details.

Mr. Frank L. Huggins, acting for the Huggins Naval Stores Company, recently incorporated by the Secretary of State, has closed a deal with the Board of County Commissioners, for four and one-half acres of the county farm tract, lying on Smith's creek, for a consideration of $200 an acre, and Mr. Huggins stated last night that as soon as a sidetrack can be laid to the site work on a manufacturing plant will be begun.

The Huggins Naval Stores Company is a close corporation, which was organized only a short time ago, with Mr. and Mrs. F. L. Huggins and Mr. W. L. Cantwell as incorporators. The authorized capital stock is $100,000, with $20,000 paid in. As its name indicates, the company will do a naval stores business.

As yet the organization meeting of the company has not been held, but it is expected that officers and directors will be elected in the near future. Work upon the plant will begin as soon as the sidetrack to the site can be laid, and the building will be rushed to completion.

Mr. Huggins has been negotiating for the tract for some time, and while the deal has been closed the papers have not yet been passed. It is an ideal site for a naval stores business, and when the spur track is in will have both water and rail facilities. Mr. Huggins is a very successful business man and will no doubt make an enviable success of his new undertaking.

Real Estate Transfers.

Deeds were filed for record yesterday as follows: Matt J. Heyer and wife to Geo. Huttar, Jr., for $1,000 and other considerations, tract at intersection of Castle Haynes and Rock Hill roads, containing about 15 acres; Elizabeth Z. Clowe to Louis Hanson, Jr., for $10 and other considerations, lot on east side of Front, 99 feet north of Meares street, 65x100 feet in size; Wm. J. Reeves and wife to P. T. Dicksey, for $10 and other considerations, part of lot 5 in Block 87, city of Wilmington; D. R. Foster and others to Emma Warren, for $10 and other considerations, lot on northwest corner of Second and Wright streets, 33x64 1/2 feet in size; H. W. Konig and wife to Samuel M. Jones, for $10 and other considerations, lot on Sixth 60 feet north of Taylor street, 60x75 feet in size.

Special Tonight at Lumina. Mrs. Frank Pearson will sing two songs tonight at Lumina at intermissions between dances. Time about 9:15 and 9:30 P. M.

ARCHBALD REPLY MADE TO SENATE

The note transaction had no relevancy to the judge's judicial action, and that in the court decision he acted solely upon his judgment of the merits of the law suit presented. If the note was presented to John H. Lenahan, one of the attorneys in the case, for discount, it was done without Judge Archbald's consent, the answer said.

As to the $500 Jones' note, which it was charged was presented to Christopher G. Boland with a request for discount for Judge Archbald, while one of the Marian Coal Company cases was pending in his court, Judge Archbald answered that he never consented that the note should be presented to either of the Bolands with a request on his part for discount, and that if such a thing were done, it was entirely without his knowledge.

As to the charge that the same note made to John Henry Jones was presented for discount to Charles H. VonStorch, president of a bank in Scranton and a lawyer, Judge Archbald answered that he endorsed the note entirely for the accommodation of Jones and had no intention of improperly using his influence as a judge to induce VonStorch to discount it.

The charge that Judge Archbald had received large gifts of money from Henry W. Cannon, a cousin of his wife, and a director in the Great Northern Railway and other corporations, was denied, though it was admitted that the judge made a trip to Italy at Cannon's expense. The judge averred he had no information that any corporation in which Cannon was interested might come before his court.

The allegation that while a district judge in Scranton he accepted a purse of $525 made up by lawyers who practiced before the bar of his court, Judge Archbald admitted, but declared he had no knowledge that such a fund was being made up and that his first knowledge of it was when it was presented to him in a sealed envelope on the deck of the steamer on which he was sailing for Europe with the request that the envelope be opened after the ship had left port.

"The gift could not have been refused without impugning the motives of the givers," said the judge in his answer.

The charge that Judge Archbald appointed J. B. Woodward a jury commissioner in Scranton while Woodward was an attorney for the Lehigh Valley Railroad, was met with the reply that Judge Archbald did not know of Woodward's connection with the railroad until several years after he had been appointed. He appointed Woodward, it was said, because the custom had been to select a Democrat and the judge knew Woodward to be of that party and had known him "intimately and favorably" for years.

Judge Archbald replied to the charge that he had obtained credit from persons having pending before him, that it was too vague to admit of answer as it did not make specific allegations nor point out times or places at which it was alleged he attempted to obtain such credit. He denied that at any time or place he sought wrongfully or otherwise to obtain credit from or through any persons interested in any court in which he presided or was a member.

Washington, July 29.—The definite assertion was made by leading members of the Senate tonight that the trial of Judge Robert W. Archbald, of the Commerce Court, will not be undertaken by the Senate for impeachment before next Fall. The question was not decided today, when Judge Archbald appeared to answer the charge of the House of Representatives, but a vote will be taken on the matter before the end of the week. The maximum strength of the Senate during the tariff fight last week was 66-23 of the total membership. Many Senators are planning to leave Washington shortly after the first of August. Senate leaders claim it would be difficult to hold the Senate together; and in view of the known desire of Judge Archbald for a postponement of the case, it is expected that a majority of the Senate will favor it.

CONVICT KILLED GUARD.

Tragedy at Stone Quarry Near Danville, Va., Yesterday.

Danville, Va., July 29.—Roy Sullivan, a 22-year-old convict serving a four year term for forgery this morning shot John C. Howard, the convict guard at the stone quarry at Chatham, where the men were working. Sullivan found a shot gun concealed in the quarry and waited an opportune moment, and attempted to hold Howard up. Howard essayed to get his revolver from his belt and at that moment Sullivan fired, tearing a hole in Howard's side from which the died four hours later. Sullivan then escaped, making northward, breaking his shackles with an axe he obtained from a negro. A posse with two dogs is now hot on his trail.

The afternoon of March 5th last, merely re-told the stories already made public through the newspapers; the two negro servants at the Grace home explained once more and in greater detail, what happened in the house on the morning of the shooting. Grace's entrance into the court room, stretched on a cot, furnished the one dramatic moment of six tiresome hours.

Mrs. Grace, brought face to face with her husband for the first time since the night of her arrest, paled and trembled. She would have swooned if the nurse at her side had not administered a hypodermic. Grace showed no sign of recognition. Subsequently he manifested a lively interest in the proceedings conferring frequently with the prosecutor. Never once, however, did he bend his glance in his wife's direction.

Throughout the day, the attorneys for Mrs. Grace thwarted every effort of the prosecution to unmask the batteries of the defense. It did not even become known whether the defense would offer any witness. Not the slightest inkling was given as to whether Mrs. Grace herself would take the stand. All their energies were bent, apparently, toward finding weak links in the chain of circumstantial evidence which the State has attempted to draw around Mrs. Grace. The prosecution seemed to attach much importance to the testimony of police that a piece of oilcloth between the sheets and the mattress prevented the blood from Grace's wound from dripping through. Martha Ruffin, the maid who had made all the beds in the Grace home for months, subsequently testified that she had never seen oilcloth on any of the beds. The presence of this oilcloth on this occasion, it is alleged, is evidence that the shooting was premeditated.

During cross-examination of J. C. Ruffin, the negro butler, the name of Rebecca Sams, a mulatto dressmaker, was injected into the case for the first time, when Attorney Rosser asked:

"Was Rebecca Sams at the Grace home on the night of March 4th?"

"I don't know, I never saw her," the negro replied.

Judge Rosser did not pursue the matter further and what subsequent part she will play in the trial, if any, was not indicated. He did ask the negro, however, whether he had had any contact with his wife, Martha Ruffin, the maid, a short time before the shooting. The question was ruled out as irrelevant but Judge Rosser served notice that he would have the witness recalled after subsequent evidence had made the question relevant.

"SHOVING THE QUEER."

News Butcher Has Profitable Side Line—A Death.

Rocky Mount, N. C., July 27.—A clever counterfeiting scheme, which has been operated in this city for some time has just been brought to light by the police of the city. But the counterfeiter, M. F. Newsome, newsbutcher on A. C. L. train from this place to Norfolk, in some way, got onto the fact that the police were upon his trail and he immediately left for parts unknown, and the matter now rests with the United States Treasury officials.

He had a powerful acid which, when poured over the silver, would give them the silver luster of a dime and he passed several in this city and along the road between this city and Norfolk. The matter was first brought to the attention of the police by Mr. H. D. Lambert, one of the victims of the scheme. Mr. Lambert discovered some time after the change had been reported that he had been tricked, and he immediately reported it to Officer L. S. Taylor, who went to work on the case and soon had enough evidence in hand to convict the youthful criminal. However, when the warrant was sworn out for the young man, it was found that he had shaken the dust of the city from his feet and that he had taken to parts unknown to his associates in this city.

The young man roomed at the boarding house of Mrs. Harriet Gay, in this city, and the officers went there to look for evidence against the boy. In the room occupied by Newsome was found a bottle of the acid. Miss Nellie Gay, a daughter of the landlady, told the officer that Newsome had told her that he had a scheme by which he could make a dollar out of ten pennies, and as that was much easier than working, he had decided to make his living in that manner. Another newsboy, whose name is not known, but who knew Newsome, said that Newsome was passing the bogus dimes all along the road between this city and Norfolk. Dalton Carter, a young white man, stated that Newsome tried to get him into the scheme, but that he didn't take on it.

Mr. T. J. Ingram, of the Union News Company, in whose service he was employed as a newsboy, stated that the young man would have been more than likely to go to Kansas City or St. Louis, as he had often heard him speak of going there after leaving here.

Attorney Frank A. Hampton has forwarded to the United States Treasury officials in Washington the full details of the crime and a description of the criminal.

Mr. W. T. Raynor, of this city, passed away at his home here yesterday afternoon after two weeks of illness with typhoid fever. He had been a resident of this city for the past two years, during which time he was employed in the Atlantic Coast Line Railroad shops at South Rocky Mount. He was about 35 years old and leaves a wife and one child. The remains were taken last night to his old home in Jacksonville, N. C., where they were interred this afternoon.

A CARD.

Wilmington, July 29, 1912.
To The Star:—That no wrong impression shall be created because of what Mr. Peschau, State's attorney, is reported to have said in a "blind tiger" case, the undersigned desires to say that he is not the J. E. Taylor, who opened a letter not intended for him and then mailed it under different cover and anonymously to some other than the rightful addressee.
Respectfully,
J. E. TAYLOR,

Until the men who should have stuck to him deserted him. When he found himself without friends, without money, he decided that he should not be made the "goat" of the situation, but that those who had brought him into it must suffer their share. If they would not help him out of it, Rose was an old friend of mine years ago, in Waterbury, Conn."

New York, July 29.—Sensational developments in the investigation of the murder of Herman Rosenthal, the gambler, who was shot down in front of the Hotel Metropole two weeks ago, came with a rush tonight when Police Lieut. Charles Becker, accused by Rosenthal as his side partner in a gambling game, was arrested, accused of participating in the killing and forced to plead at once to a charge of murder in the first degree.

Becker was arraigned before Judge Mulqueen, who had convened the court of general sessions at night for the purpose, and pleaded not guilty. He was remanded to the Tombs. The arrest of Becker came as a sequel to the summoning together of the grand jury today, a conference between District Attorney Nathan Tamm and Vallon, "Bridge" Webber and Jack Rose, three of the men under arrest in connection with the case and their attorneys and the appearance of several other witnesses before the grand jury.

Becker was arrested at the Bathgate avenue police station in the Bronx, where he has been on duty, on a charge of extortion. At the time no inkling of the more serious charge to be placed against him was given. Meanwhile the grand jury, which was then in session, had voted the murder indictment. The indictment which had been suspended by Commissioner Waldo, after his arrest, was hurried before Judge Mulqueen and through his attorney entered a plea of not guilty.

Events leading to Becker's arrest began to shape themselves late this afternoon following the preliminary hearing of several of the men under arrest before the coroner.

Sam Paul, leader of an Eastside organization, at whose recent outing it is claimed Rosenthal's killing was first discussed, was discharged. The others were held for a continued hearing. With their attorney Vallon, Webber and Rose were taken to the district attorney's office ready to testify before the grand jury. Messengers were at once dispatched for members of the grand jury and the first night session of that body held within 18 years was soon in progress.

Rose, Webber and Vallon, it is stated, were the principal witnesses. Patrolmen Brady and William Fife, who were near the scene of the murder, also testified.

Proceeding the hearing District Attorney Whitman when asked if he expected the prisoners to tell the grand jury what they knew of the murder, replied: "I hope so." He then went into conference with Judge Mulqueen to arrange for the night session of court.

It was close to midnight when Becker was brought into court. He held his head erect and showed little or no concern. A clerk announced: "Charles Becker, you are charged with murder in the first degree. Do you demand a trial? Are you guilty or not guilty?"

John W. Hart, who appeared as Becker's counsel, asked for time to confer with his client, saying he had not seen Becker today and knew nothing of the details of the charge. He demanded ten days in which to prepare his plea. To this Judge Mulqueen demurred. He suggested that a plea of not guilty be entered at once, saying that if at the end of a week, the attorney wished to change the plea he was sure any court would grant permission. Becker was then remanded to the tombs where he was locked up for the night. Attorney Hart accompanied him to the prison and remained in conference with his client for twenty minutes. When asked if he had any statement to make after leaving Becker, Mr. Hart replied:

"No. There is nothing to say at this time. My client pleaded not guilty. He does not know who his accusers are nor anything concerning the indictment. There will be nothing to say tonight."

MORE CONTESTS EXPECTED.

Third Termers Seeking to Eliminate Negroes in Arkansas.

Little Rock, Ark., July 29.—Contests over seating delegates to the Progressive Republican State convention here tomorrow were foreshadowed tonight when a number of white voters in Little Rock held a mass meeting and passed resolutions declaring "the experience of 50 years has shown that to eliminate the negro from politics is best for the negroes and alleviates the bitterness of race antagonism."

The convention was urged to "govern its actions in the light of past history."

Tomorrow's convention, according to announced plans, will place a full State ticket in the field and name delegates to the Chicago meeting August 5th.

Charlotte, N. C., July 29.—The worst outbreak of lawlessness that has ever been experienced in the Carolina League seemed to have had a climax in the game at Anderson this afternoon, with Spartanburg, when Third-Baseman Martin, of the latter club, was snatched from enraged hands by police and escorted to safety, this attack being followed by a fight between First Baseman Fleishman, of Anderson, and Catcher Coveny, of Spartanburg, in which the latter was knocked unconscious. President Wear, of Charlotte, is tonight renewing steps to stop these acts of violence, and is imposing fines of $25 and $50.

Spartanburg, S. C., July 29.—Circuit Court Judge Sease today postponed from August 6th to 7th, the hearing in the case of W. J. Massee, the Macon, Ga., capitalist, under $10,000 bond to appear here for hearing in the regulation proceedings instituted by the State of Tennessee. This action follows the withdrawal of the revocation of the regulation by Governor Hooper, of Tennessee. The Governor of South Carolina has decided to let Judge Sease determine whether Massee shall be surrendered to the Tennessee authorities.

DOCTORS ADVISE OPERATIONS

Saved by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Swarthmore, Penn.—"For fifteen years I suffered untold agony, and for one period of nearly two years I had hemorrhages and the doctors told me I would have to undergo an operation, but I began taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and am in good health now. I am all over the Change of Life and cannot praise your Vegetable Compound too highly. Every woman should take it at that time. I recommend it to both old and young for female troubles."—Mrs. EMILY SUMMERSGILL, Swarthmore, Pa.

Baltimore, Md.—"My troubles began with the loss of a child, and I had hemorrhages for four months. The doctors said an operation was necessary, but I dreaded it and decided to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. The medicine has made me a well woman and I feel strong and do my own work."—Mrs. J. R. PICKING, 1260 Sargeant St., Baltimore, Md.

Since we guarantee that all testimonials which we publish are genuine, it is not fair to suppose that if Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has the virtue to help these women it will help any other woman who is suffering in a like manner?

If you want special advice write to Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co. (Confidential) Lynn, Mass. Your letter will be opened, read and answered by a woman and held in strict confidence.

SINGING CLASS CONCERT.

Children From Odd Fellows' Home to Appear Here Tomorrow Night.

An event this is looked forward to with much pleasure by the local Odd Fellows, as well as many other citizens of Wilmington, is the concert to be given by the singing class from the Odd Fellows' Home at the Academy of Music tomorrow evening at 8:30 o'clock. The class this year is unusually well trained and the concerts have been meeting with much success in all of the cities visited.

The children will arrive here tomorrow morning from Fayetteville and will be entertained in the homes of the local Odd Fellows while they are in the city. They will leave Thursday morning for Southport, giving a concert at that place the same evening.

Mr. Ben R. Aven is manager of the class and Miss Lillian McDonald is teacher. The following children compose the class: Dora Westmoreland, Ben Westmoreland, Lizzie Mae Stanley, Mary Corbell, Mamie Ennis, Gladys Snell, Louise Holmes, Anna Luther, John Luther, Harry Holmes, Paul Gattis, Willie Stout, Otis Snell and Gilbert Davis.

An attractive programme will be rendered and it is expected that a large audience will give the children on their appearance there. Admission for adults will be 25 cents and for children 15 cents.
